Improvement Association Will Back $2,000,000 Bond Proposal and New City Hall Plan.

WELFARE OF CITY WILL BE PROMOTED

Business Men Will Meet This Morning To Elect Officers and Map Plans for Vigorous Campaign.

Organization of the Atlanta Improvement association with a directorate composed of some of the most active business men of the city was perfected at a meeting at Rich's tea room Tuesday afternoon and the first definite work of the body will be to back the $2,000,000 bond issue for a new city hall.

Frank Neely, manager of M. Rich and Brothers company, presided and enthusiastic speeches were made by prominent business men pointing out the necessity of building the new city hall now while the county property is available at Hunter street and Central avenue.

It was stated that there is no opposition in sight to the passage of the bond issue but the necessity of bringing out the required number of voters was stressed.

To Elect Officers.

Officers of the new association will be named at a meeting of the board of directors to be held at Rich's at 11 o'clock Wednesday morning. The object of the new association, as outlined by E. L. Meyer, is to promote the general welfare of Atlanta without regard to sections but to work particularly for the legitimate development and expansion of the south side district.

Short talks were delivered by George Faus, C. D. Knight, E. L. Meyer, Mr. Neely, Fred Wilson, E. A. Wilson-Lawrence and George Boynton.

Mr. Faus sounded the keynote of the meeting when he declared that the greatest forward step Atlanta can take now is to build the new city hall. He said there never was a time when construction work on such a project was more needed. He said the county property is the logical site because it is centrally located and city and county governments will be merged. He pointed out the fact that the new viaducts are to be built over the railroad tracks on Central avenue and Pryor street and declared that the city hall should be built right away before these viaducts are finished.

"This bond election should bring out the vote of every person interested in the future growth of Atlanta," he said. "The bond issue will win if the people will just go to the polls and vote. It will require a two-thirds majority of those voting to win the election and this two-thirds must equal a majority of the registered voters. I have not yet heard a single objection to the proposition to build the new city hall and it is to the best interests of the whole city that this building be erected on the county property as soon as time and city and county governments will permit."

Definite steps to enlist the support of all citizens in Atlanta in the movement to bring out a heavy vote will be continued on page 8, column 3.

Nun Teachers Causing Fight In Kentucky

Court Battle To Follow Ban by County Education Board.

Owensboro, Ky., September 1.—(AP) The Davies county board of education today decided that Roman Catholic nuns, wearing the garb of the Ursuline order, would "exert a sectarian influence in the schools," contrary to law, and declined to elect them teachers in the county schools.

The trustees of the Knottville, St. Lawrence and St. Joseph districts, who had recommended employment of the nuns, instructed counsel to file a mandamus suit to compel the board to provide public schools in the districts and to employ the teachers, in this case nuns, recommended by them.

Public schools have not been conducted at Knottville and St. Lawrence, where many of the pupils are Catholics, for several years, the children attending parochial schools instead. At St. Joseph the county board has been paying the salary of one nun teacher, who was assigned to run the parochial school building.

The question had been before the board for several months and came up for a decision today only after Attorney General Frank M. Laughery, a Catholic, had declined to render an opinion other than to hold that the sectarian influence must be kept out of the public schools. McHenry Rhodes, superintendent of public instruction, and a Protestant, concurred in the opinion.

The county board rejected the recommendation of the district trustees, three votes to two, after O. B. Poole, a member and trustee from the

HANEY REITERATES REFUSAL TO QUIT SHIP BOARD POST

Says He Will Not Consider President's Request Based on "Alleged Breach of Faith."

BY THOMAS L. STOKES.

Washington, September 1.—Out of the present stew in the shipping board, President Coolidge is expected to seize the opportunity to shape this agency which has charge of the government's merchant marine more in conformity with his policies. This would follow similar changes in the tariff and federal trade commission, two other independent bureaus which gave him considerable trouble, but are now quiet.

The president's effort, however, probably will meet with such opposition as was occasioned by changes in the other bureaus, still simmering, and may make the troubles between the board and the emergency fleet corporation, with Coolidge's connection, one of the liveliest subjects of discussion in the coming congress, particularly from democrats.

Big "Family Row."

It is apparent here that this is one of the most pronounced "family" rows in the government in a long while, and its reactions may be widespread. It is a "family row" in that it involves government bureaus and clashes of policy, but extends beyond that because inspired through the attitude of a democrat, Commissioner Bert Haney.

Haney, who has defied Coolidge by refusing to resign, reiterated his refusal Tuesday, but said he would step out if Coolidge would withdraw the charge that he had broken a promise in declining to support Admiral Leigh Palmer, president of the emergency fleet corporation. It is hardly expected Coolidge will do any such thing.

But Haney holds a recess appointment, and the president can send up another nomination for his place when congress reconvenes, thus automatically "firing" the Oregon man. A democrat must be appointed to fill Haney's place, but Coolidge has the field from which to pick.

Explosion Is Seen.

Naming of another man to succeed Haney probably will be the fuse to set off an explosion from democrats in the senate, and once burning, the fire may crackle merrily. Certain in-laboring republicans may join in casting fuel on the flames.

Coolidge, however, has a majority in the senate, and it is expected he will go along with the changing of the shipping board with his usual unconcern.

Appointment of a man to succeed Haney will be the first step. It is reported here that the democrat who has disagreed with the administration's shipping policy may resign within the next few months, Commissioner Frederick Thompson, of Alabama, who led the opposition to the large-scale scrapping policy which resulted in sale of 200 ships to Henry Ford.

Vacancy in two democratic places would give Coolidge an opportunity to pick men more sympathetic to his shipping policies, who would not be inclined to make war upon Admiral Palmer, in whose hands Coolidge desires to place large funds.

Admiral Benson is the other democratic member of the board. There has been no indication that he will give up his position.

City To Welcome Florida Tourists

Hailing the Florida excursion to Atlanta for the Labor Day celebration as the first ripple in the tide of the tide of population from Florida into Georgia, Mayor Walter A. Sims announced Tuesday that the special train would be met at the Terminal station Saturday by an official reception committee and a brass band, "to greet Florida with open arms and extend the glad hand of welcome to the trail blazers for hundreds of thousands we mean to bring here."

The reception committee, it was announced, would be headed by the mayor with other officials of the joint Labor Day advisory committee which has co-operated with the trade unions in preparing the celebration Monday.

GENE COOK FAILS TO COME THROUGH

Seven Tie For Last Place With 158 and Five Former Champions Are Eliminated.

BY GEORGE CONGDON.

Sporting Editor, Constitution.

Oakmont Country Club, Pittsburg, Pa., September 1.—(Special.)—Tears were shed tonight at Oakmont for the names that have loomed big for years in the national golf tournaments but which were smeared with the sand of Oakmont's woeful course and thrown into the discard instead of into the brackets that hold the competitors for the 1925 title.

The names of some of America's greatest amateurs tonight were not on the lists of the sweet 16 who tomorrow enter match play for the crown Bob Jones wears. They were crowded out by the new names of kids, and one of those kids was Watts Gunn, of Atlanta, 20 years old, and playing this year in his first national tournament.

The Atlanta ace, Bob Jones, was easily in. He was second in the list. He was one of eight veterans who came through.

Those who go into the first round of match play here tomorrow morning and their matches are as follows: Jack Mackie, Jr., Inwood, plays Lauren Upon, Delpaso; A. Jones, Jr., New York, plays Roland MacKenzie, Washington; Bill Fowles, Jr., Pittsburg, plays Jesse Sweetser, Siwanoy; Watts Gunn, Atlanta, plays V. L. Bradford, Jr., Pittsburg; Bob Jones, Atlanta, plays Bill Beckie, Upper Montclair; Fred Knight, of Whitmarsh, plays Clarence Wolff, St. Louis; George Von Elm, Rancho, plays Jimmy Marion, St. Louis; Eddie Held, St. Louis, plays Jess Guilford, Woodland.

Vets Crowded Out.

So with the coming of this list passed from the story of the 1925 national amateur championship such names as Francis Ouimet, Chick Evans, Max Marston, Bob Gardner, Dexter Cummings, Dave Herron, Ira Couch, Harrison Johnson, Freddie Wright, Ducky Corkran and Rudy Koppes.

Roland MacKenzie, of Washington, who led the field with his 71 yesterday, came through with a 74 today and won the low medal with his total of 145 for the two days.

MacKenzie played a round today that gave him figures one under par on the first side, but three over par coming in.

His card for today's play, with par, was:

Par: 544, 543, 435—37

Out: 445, 544, 544—35-72-144

McKenzie: 544, 444, 434—36

In: 544, 435, 335—38-74-145

MacKenzie's two rounds were just one stroke worse than par for the two days, a remarkable performance for the kid that MacKenzie is.

Bob Jones was close on MacKenzie's heels.

Banker Fears Facing Family After Arrest

Confesses to Embezzling $60,000 and Eloping With Pretty Girl.

San Antonio, Texas, September 1.—(AP)—"It wasn't worth it."

"I can face bank officials and penitentiary guards but I cannot face my wife and two children."

Such is the statement of Will Frazer, who confessed to having absconded July 11 from Middlesboro, Ky., with approximately $60,000 in money and negotiable bonds, after which he eloped with a beautiful girl of Lexington.

"When detectives knocked on my door I was at first tempted to shoot it out with them. They were so nice about it, though, I decided to give up and go back and take my medicine—but it's going to be hell."

The 22-year-old girl, Thelma Hobach, described as a "butterfly of the perfect dote type," gave an admission to detectives which led to identification of the embezzler.

She announced that she would stick to her companion. No charges will be placed against her. The man has waived extradition and will be taken to Kentucky at once.

BUYERS URGED TO AVOID PANIC

No Cause for Alarm, Coolidge Told—Workers' District Thrown Into Receivership.

Scranton, Pa., September 1.—(AP)—Anthracite operators will insist that a settlement of the present hard coal strike include measures for avoiding future strikes in the industry. W. W. Inglis, chairman of the anthracite operators' negotiation committee, announced in a statement issued here this afternoon.

Mr. Inglis' statement came as a reply to John H. Lewis' declaration that no other course was open to the miners than to suspend operations.

The operators' spokesman said: "The miners' spokesman says that 'the mine workers deeply regret that no course is open to them than to suspend mining operations.' There was a way open that the operators have over and over again proposed, namely, that operations should go on while negotiations for a new contract were pending. The idea that the miners cannot work unless they have a contract is unsupported by reason or practice."

"All other classes of workers continue on their jobs after a contract expires, knowing that sooner or later another contract will be made. "There are hundreds of thousands of workers in every class of employment that are reasonable enough to go on with their work after a wage contract expires. Mr. Lewis will not permit the miners to do this."

"That is why we have a strike: it is not because there is no other course. It is because a strike is the only course he is willing to adopt. "This emphasizes the need to insist that a settlement of the present strike shall include measures for avoiding future strikes."

NO CAUSE FOR FEAR COOLIDGE IS TOLD.

Swampscott, Mass., September 1.—(AP)—With the anthracite suspension in effect, President Coolidge was represented today at the summer white house as of the belief that there is no cause for alarm over a fuel supply unless buyers become panicky.

It was reiterated that the administration does not intend to take any part in the controversy but will do what it can to get anthracite substitutes for the public at fair prices.

Anxiety on the part of the public over the complete line of publications carried by the New York office of the company, and who will have charge of the new branch.

For some years the company has maintained a branch here to handle books and other educational materials, but the establishment of the new branch will mark a revolutionary move among book publishers.

It will mean that the Macmillan Company will serve dealers and libraries direct from Atlanta instead of from New York, and will carry here the complete line of publications carried at the main publishing house.

"We will operate the new branch at 17 Houston street," Mr. Watts announced. "We have obtained the entire building at that address, which will provide us with room for expansion."

Mr. Watts has been in Atlanta two weeks working on plans for establishing the new branch. He said the possibilities in Atlanta in his lines of business are wonderful.

"We have enjoyed a nice increase in business we have handled heretofore through our main office in this territory," he said. "Our business has been greater this year than for half a dozen preceding years."

Mr. Watts will move to Atlanta and the new branch will provide employment for many Atlanta people.

VETERANS OF G. A. R. WILL BE INVITED TO CONVEY HERE

Plans are now on foot to bring to Atlanta the sixtieth encampment of the Grand Army of the Republic next year, according to announcement Tuesday by Fred Houser, executive secretary of the Atlanta convention and tourist bureau.

The first step in the movement was taken Tuesday by a committee composed of Governor Clifford Walker, Mayor Walter A. Sims, Frederic J. Paxson and W. C. Boyer, who sent a telegram to L. S. Arnsberg, commander-in-chief of the Grand Army of the Republic, who is attending the national convention of the organization being held at Grand Rapids, Mich.

It is said that plans to bring the Grand Army here are the first attempt by any southern city.

PUBLISHING FIRM SELECTS ATLANTA TO SERVE SOUTH

Natural Advantages Induce Macmillan Company To Place Branch in City.

Atlanta's advantages as the trade capital of the southeastern states have won another branch house for this city, it was revealed Tuesday, when it was announced that the Macmillan Company, one of the largest book publishing houses in the world, will establish its southern trade branch here. The territory served by the new branch will include North and South Carolina, Georgia, Florida, Tennessee, Alabama and Mississippi.

The announcement was made by Thomas M. Watts, who comes to Atlanta from the New York office of the company, and who will have charge of the new branch.

For some years the company has maintained a branch here to handle books and other educational materials, but the establishment of the new branch will mark a revolutionary move among book publishers.

It will mean that the Macmillan Company will serve dealers and libraries direct from Atlanta instead of from New York, and will carry here the complete line of publications carried at the main publishing house.

Washington, September 1.—Two new and deadly poisons have just been discovered in bootleg liquor, according to J. W. Quillen, government chemist, who believes deaths from poison liquor will mount as a result of their use.

These poisons are more deadly than wood alcohol, he says.

One of them is known as brucine sulphate. It is a poison that attacks the heart action in much the same way as strychnine.

Atlanta Man First To Bomb Lair of Riffs

Paul Rockwell Drops Twelve Bombs, Causing Serious Losses.

Fox, French Morocco, September 1.—(United News.)—Captain Rockwell, of the American escadrille, drew blood for the French Tuesday when he bombed Riffian concentrations in the Ouergha valley. Rockwell dropped 12 bombs, causing serious losses among the enemy.

France and Spain are almost ready to throw 200,000 troops into the scale in an effort to wind up the war before the rains. The French plan to have 200,000 effective ready for action when the long-awaited joint offensive with Spain begins. The Spanish troops will number about 60,000.

Paul Rockwell, a native of Asheville, N. C., made his home in Atlanta for a number of years and was living here when he and his brother Kiffin left at the beginning of the world war to join the French forces. They became members of the foreign legion.

Paul was wounded and invalided out of the service. Kiffin joined the Lafayette escadrille and was killed in action after making a brilliant record.

Later Paul Rockwell married the daughter of a wealthy merchant in Paris. Recently he joined the special American air forces to aid the French in the Moroccan campaign. Since the world war he has paid a visit to Atlanta. At one time he was a reporter for The Constitution.

PRESIDENT PLANS WAR ON PUBLICITY OF INCOME TAXES

Coolidge Is Informed That This Phase of Law Is Causing Decrease in Amount of Revenue.

Swampscott, Mass., September 1.—Income tax publicity, which is engaging the nation's attention now, is a failure, in the opinion of President Coolidge. Besides that, it has failed to reveal just what Mr. Coolidge's own income is, if that is what one is interested in.

The president paid a tax this year of $14,001.88, it was revealed in Boston, just at the same time, when Mr. Coolidge was opening a new campaign against the publicity clause in the income tax law.

But there is a puzzling circumstance: Did the president pay taxes on his salary of $75,000 for last year? If he did, his income tax payment shows that practically all his income came from his salary. If he didn't, he is comfortably rich outside of his salary.

Not Subject To Tax.

The United States supreme court ruled a few months ago that the federal income tax does not apply to federal judges because the constitution provides that the government cannot diminish their salaries during their term of office. An almost identical clause applies to the president's salary. The ruling was made after the president had filed his return, however.

Officials of the internal revenue bureau admitted after the decision that the president's salary was in the same category as the judges'. They hesitated, however, about issuing a ruling exempting the president, for they feared he would not appreciate being so favored, while his fellow citizens were digging deep in their pockets to meet the demands of Uncle Sam.

No nothing official has been done, and the government is in this situation: It cannot take the money, although it may be that the president does not want exemption.

Persons connected with the president were silent about the president's tax. The president was not so reticent regarding the general question of income tax publicity. He does not like it, and it was strongly indicated that his next message to congress will contain a repetition of his demand for its repeal.

Mr. Coolidge has been informed that the publicity provision not only interferes with collection of income tax revenue, but that it also causes a decrease in the amount of revenue.

San Francisco, September 1.—(United News.)—The log of the PN-9-1 as it flew from San Francisco toward Honolulu was chronicled in brief dispatches to navy headquarters here.

Destroyer Farragut, 1,600 miles out, at 12:02 p. m.
Plane tender Aroostook, 8:52 p. m.

Honolulu, September 1.—(By the Associated Press.)—Tragedy threatened the navy's non-stop flight from San Francisco to Honolulu tonight when the seaplane PN-9, No. 1, her fuel supply failing, was left to battle a stormy sea.

Zigzagging along the seaplane's charted course, the navy ships Aroostook and Tanager used what little daylight was left them by the continuous rain in a determined attempt to track down the giant flying machine. The two ships left their predetermined stations late in the afternoon after more than an hour had passed without radio word from the fliers.

Aroostook Searching.

Commander Wilbur Van Anken, of the Aroostook, at 2 p. m. sent the following message to the Tanager, 150 miles toward the southwest:

"The plane probably came down about 1:45 p. m., between the Aroostook and the Tanager. Search along the base course towards the Aroostook." The message added that the Aroostook would take up the search along the course toward the Tanager's station.

The last messages received from the seaplane were not calculated to inspire much confidence that she would

TAX LIST SHOWS GEORGIA'S GROWTH

While the actual tax on incomes in Georgia for the year 1924 amounted approximately to the same figure as was returned for 1923, net earnings of income tax payers was much greater in 1924 than in 1923, according to a statement made public Tuesday by Josiah T. Rose in connection with the publication of the lists of income tax payers. The increase was due to the lower rate of tax for 1924 as compared to 1923.

At a lower rate of taxation the tax amounted to about the same as the former year under the higher rate and this showed that net earnings were far greater in 1924.

The books of the internal revenue department as opened for public inspection by Collector Rose showed that Samuel C. Dobbs, Atlanta capitalist, and former president of the Coca-Cola company, paid the largest income tax of any individual in Georgia. Mr. Dobbs paid $246,046. C. Howard Candler, second with $218,867. Asa G. Candler, and Asa G. Candler, Jr., paid no income tax, as their taxes were paid through Asa G. Candler, Inc.

Three athletes listed.

Three noted Georgia athletes are listed in the report. T. Cobb, manager of the Detroit Tigers in the American league, paid $2,704. W. L. "Young" Stripling, Atlanta boxer, paid $3,290, and "Bobby" Jones, champion golfer, paid $200.

Mr. Rose announced that taxes paid in July and August this year amounted to $85,000 more than was paid last year during the same months. Mr. Rose said he was not at liberty to make public the totals, but said this increase reflected the prosperity of this section in recent months.

Following is a partial list of income tax payers as made public by Mr. Rose:

Samuel C. Dobbs, Atlanta, $246,046.54.
Ernest Woodruff, Atlanta, $61,097.25.
Fuller E. Callaway, LaGrange, $3,553.

TENNESSEE PLANS TO TAKE HIGHWAY
FIGHT TO COOLIDGE

Nashville, Tenn., September 1.—(C) J. G. Creveling, Jr., state highway commissioner for Tennessee, plans to carry direct to President Coolidge his fight against the announced bolting up of Tennessee's allotment of federal highway funds for Tennessee until provision is made for building the Harahan viaduct in Arkansas.

Commissioner Creveling, after returning from Memphis, where he made personal inspection of the details of the Harahan project, was preparing today to appear before United States Attorney General John G. Sargent in Washington, September 2, to determine whether the federal bureau of public roads would be within its legal right in holding up Tennessee federal funds out of preference to the viaduct construction.

One of the points under discussion, Creveling said, was whether the state of Tennessee shall proceed against Secretary of Agriculture W. M. Jardine for withholding federal funds from Tennessee as he has announced he would do. It was intimated by the Tennessee highway commission that a restraining order might be sought in court.

The latest development in the highway tangle is the receipt of a letter from E. H. McDonald, chief of the public roads at Washington, by R. R. Thompson, senior federal highway engineer for Tennessee, conveying the information that Thornton would be Further relief from the power shortage now being combatted by the Georgia Railway and Power company will be given about September 10, when all the power possible to generate at present at the great government hydro-electric plant at Muscle Shoals, Ala., will be turned into Alabama Power company lines, according to an announcement Tuesday by United States Senator William J. Harris. Senator Harris said he had received word from the war department at Washington that all generators possible to operate under present conditions at the plant would be turned on.

Senator Harris said he understood that two and possibly three spillways are available for use, and that the accumulated water will be sufficient to operate probably three generators.

The first unit in the great plant was placed in operation Saturday and its power distributed by the Alabama Power company to interlocking lines, but it was shut down after three hours' operation in order that minor repairs and adjustments to machinery might be made.

Both Senator Harris and Senator Walter F. George have been active in urging the war department to turn the Muscle Shoals plant on to its fullest capacity because of the extreme drought condition in this section. Other senators also have urged action and a result, the plan will be in operation some time before it had been intended.

Officers Bitten
By Young Woman
Resisting Arrest

A squad of police and detectives were recovering late Tuesday night from severe bites, scratches and bruises inflicted by a young woman who resisted efforts of officers to lock her in the matron's ward at the police station.

The young woman, giving the name of Katherine Bradstreet, was arrested by Detectives "Red" Hunt and "Zip" Coyle at the corner of Horton and Courtland streets while seated at the wheel of a big sedan.

She is being held on a blanket charge, officers believing the car in which she was sitting, being a New York license tag is a stolen machine.

She submitted agreeably enough to arrest and accompanied detectives in the car to the police station. At the station house, she resisted all efforts of detectives to remove her from the car and it was necessary to call policemen on evening watch to dislodge her from the car.

The squad of officers charged the car from all sides, and found a ready antagonist in the young woman, who met the attack with fists, teeth, fingernails and feet, alternately biting, scratching and kicking officers.

Odds were against her, however, and she was overpowered and taken to the matron's ward and locked in solitary confinement, while officers sought first aid.

W. W. Smith Dies.

Summerville, Ga., September 1.—(Special.)—News of the death at Miami, Fla., of W. W. Smith, a former resident of Chattooga county and a brother of the late Rev. J. M. Smith, of Lyerly, has been received by relatives here. Mr. Smith moved from Birmingham, Ala., to Miami about three years ago.

transferred because his relations with the Tennessee highway department had been "unsatisfactory."

Rev. Morgan Accepts Plan to Reorganize Georgia-Florida Road

Cincinnati, Ohio, September 1.—(Special.)—The Rev. Campbell Morgan, of Athens, Ga., will be the new pastor of the historic First Presbyterian church of this city, assuming his duties January 1, it became known here today. He will succeed the Rev. David McKinney, one of America's best known ministers, who has resigned after 35 years of service to the church.

The Rev. Mr. Morgan telegraphed to the Rev. Mr. McKinney today, accepting the call to the Cincinnati church. The delay in taking over the church by the Rev. Mr. Morgan is due to the fact that he is booked to conduct a number of missions throughout the United States in the fall. He is considered one of the foremost preachers of the country and has established a national reputation as a lecturer today from posts in the Southern Business College, the English Department being also conducted by the Rev. B. S. Fleming, graduate of Emory University, one of the finest universities throughout the land.

The Southern, as well as every other Business School, advises young men and women to go just as far in the literary schools as they can; not only through High School, but through College if possible; yet, at the same time, there are thousands of young people who, unfortunately, have never had the opportunity to go to the High Schools, and there will be thousands of others who can never attend them. The Southern Business College is, therefore, proud of the fact that it has an English Department, so thorough and complete, that these undergraduates of High Schools may enter such department and master the subjects of grammar, spelling, arithmetic, penmanship, etc., to such a degree of proficiency as to enable them to take, simultaneously, the Southern's Business Training, and to develop into efficient stenographers and bookkeepers.

If you can't possibly attend High School and want to get into the Business World, then enroll at the Southern, where you can successfully be prepared for a good position.

Every Business School in Atlanta wants you, and will work tremendously hard to get you, but serve your best interests by enrolling at the Southern, where you can be brought up in your English and made a first stenographer or a good bookkeeper.

There are, perhaps, as many High School graduates now enrolled at the Southern as the entire enrollment of any other Business School in Atlanta, but the Southern also has under graduates and will welcome others who may wish a Business Training and a good position.

Ask the prominent business men and bankers of Atlanta from which

LEADERS IN SESSION

Routine business in connection with the drive of the Yaarab temple to raise a fund for the proposed new mosque were discussed informally Tuesday afternoon at 4:30 o'clock by officials in the drive at a meeting at the Ansley hotel.

Reports of several committees were given at the meeting and other routine business transacted, it was announced.

New York, September 1.—(Special.)—John Skelton Williams, receiver for the Georgia & Florida railway, in a circular just issued to bondholders, says that plans for the reorganization of that road call for the raising of $4,000,000 to $4,500,000 of new money to retire receiver's certificates and other obligations having priority over the first mortgage bonds totaling between $2,500,000 and $3,000,000. The United States loan is to be extended, and the $200,000 terminal bonds are not due until 1930. First mortgage bonds outstanding to date $6,220,000.

The new money which it is expected

John D. Rockefeller, Jr., Leads Country by Paying Income Tax of $6,277,669

Henry Ford Pays $2,608,806 and Edsel Ford Contributes the Sum of $2,158,855.

New York, September 1.—(AP)—The United States government today laid bare to the eyes of a curious public for nationwide inspection the federal income tax records which testify to individual and corporate contributions toward the government's running expenses for 1924. It was estimated that tax returns of 8,000,000 persons and corporations were contained in the books thrown open for inspection in tax offices over the country.

The confusion and contradictory attitudes of officials of the various internal revenue bureaus which marked the inspection of the tax records a year ago when the income tax publicity law was put into effect were noticeably absent today. From California to Maine came reports of every facility being extended to those who sought to select important names and payments from the thousands listed in the books. Tax offices everywhere were crowded with newspaper men and business men seeking the information the books contained.

President Pays $14,081. The lists revealed that Uncle Sam derives his income from many occupations and many quarters. The name of the first man of the land, politically, was far down in the list of incomes. President Coolidge paid $14,081; Vice-President Dawes paid $24,834.

Andrew W. Mellon, with $1,882,600, John D. Rockefeller, Jr., paid the largest personal tax thus far reported, $6,277,669. John D. Rockefeller paid $2,608,806, Henry Ford paid $2,608,806, and Edsel Ford $2,158,855.

The Ford Motor company paid the largest tax reported by a corporation, $16,403,160. United States Steel corporation was second with $11,005,219, and General Electric company third, with $7,245,900. Standard Oil Company of New York and affiliated companies paid $2,236,436.

The government came in for liberal support from the moving picture industry with Douglas Fairbanks leading the list of high salaried actors. He paid $182,190.

Gloria Swanson was second, paying $26,075.23. Mary Pickford paid $24,075.23; Charlie Chaplin, $24,581; Harold Lloyd, $22,151.16; and Roscoe C. Arbuckle paid $6,116.

Lawyers, writers and newspapermen, while not occupying top brackets in the list, were not to be overlooked. John W. Davis, attorney for 1924, and unsuccessful democratic candidate for the presidency in 1924, paid $40,533. Max Steuer, attorney, paid $198,455. Clarence Darrow, noted lawyer, paid $3,900. Rex Beach, writer, contributed $10,076, and Rudyard Kipling, through his American publishers, was taxed $4,900. William Randolph Hearst was assessed $42,239.

Smallest Payment. The smallest payment reported was that of Florence L. Smiley, New York who paid 3 cents.

Huge fluctuations were recorded in the returns published today, as compared with returns made by the same persons and corporations for last year. John D. Rockefeller paid less by more than a million dollars, than he paid last year.

J. P. Morgan, on the other hand, paid $74,379 this year as compared with $88,643 last year. E. H. Gary, chairman of the United States Steel corporation, paid $322,680 this year, as compared with $473,564 last year. Fluctuations such as this marked the list generally from all communities reporting.

One New York newspaper, The New York Evening Post, refrained from publishing the income tax figures, stating that such "publication is a gross violation of the rights of the individual."

John D. Rockefeller, Sr.'s payment last year was more than $4,000 less than the previous year, while J. P. Morgan's tax took a big jump. The latter's tax for 1923 was $98,643.

Richard Barthelmess, movie actor, paid $24,803.93; Charles Scribner, publisher, $53,662.02; Charles E. Mitchell, banker, $191,020.74.

Otto H. Kahn paid $391,776 for last year, compared with $154,983 for 1923.

HEAVY DECREASES SHOWN AT CHICAGO. Chicago, September 1.—(AP)—A vast decrease in some classes of income tax returns is indicated in list of payments made by a hundred or more prominent Chicagoans, published today in the Chicago Tribune and the Herald and Examiner.

Many taxpayers in the higher brackets availed themselves of various legal and permissible expedients for avoiding burdensome payments, it was thought.

The largest tax paid by those listed in the newspapers came from L. L. Cooke, chief engineer and head of the Chicago engineering works, a correspondence school. His return was $300,787 and that of Mrs. L. L. Cooke $92,710.

The largest reduction published by the newspapers was that of William Wrigley, Jr., the chewing gum manufacturer, whose 1923 taxes were listed at $2,444 as against $836,565 in 1924. It was pointed out the figures given were for the manufacturer personally and corporation taxes for the various companies in which he is a dominant figure have not been published.

Hurley Pays $136,951. Edward N. Hurley, former shipping board head, last year paid $49,197 and this year $136,951. Frank B. Stout, railroad and lumber man, paid in 1923 $196,576 as against $41,405 last year.

Silas H. Strawn led the list of lawyers with a reported payment of $39,846, slightly more than last year. Clarence Arkansas returns were led by W. J. Buchanan, of Texarkana, with $127,473.07, and Harvey C. Couch, of Pine Bluff, paid $52,215.25.

Mrs. A. C. Hert, of Louisville, widow of the late Alvin T. Hert, who was national republican committeeman from Kentucky, led the individual returns in the Blue Grass state with a tax of $50,688.87. The next one was James B. Brown, of Louisville, with $37,881.23. The Louisville Railway company paid $138,912.96.

Louisiana figures were not so large as in states not having the "community property" law. Under the law of Louisiana, and six other states, property is owned jointly by husband and wife, and income tax may be divided equally. The tax on large incomes is reduced under these provisions. Among the larger taxes noted in a survey of bulky volumes containing 79,604 returns were: F. W. Monte, New Orleans, $86,893.23; Mrs. John D. Dierck, New Orleans, $68,545.60; J. A. Bentley, Alexandria, $56,545.60; E. W. Zimmerman, Zimmerman, $38,283.42; W. R. Irby, New Orleans, $25,893.87; John B. Levert, New Orleans, $23,283.42.

GOVERNMENT OFFICIALS MAKE RETURNS. Washington, September 1.—(AP)—Examination of income tax returns at the Baltimore internal revenue collector's office, where returns from the District of Columbia are filed, revealed that most of the high officials of the federal government made their returns in their home districts.

Those who filed at Baltimore included Chief Justice Taft, who paid $1,723. Former Solicitor General Beck paid $8,589 and Mrs. Woodrow Wilson $349.

Among the largest payments among Washington citizens were $281,125 by Edward B. McLean, publisher of the Washington Post, and $255,720 by William McE. Ritter, founder of an Ohio lumber company.

The Washington baseball club paid $28,879 and the Baltimore and Ohio railroad $1,907,181.

SECRETARY OF STATE PAYS $9,760.55. St. Paul, Minn., September 1.—(AP) Frank B. Kellogg, secretary of state, whose home is in St. Paul, paid an income tax of $9,760.55, returns filed here show.

It's Not Hard to Save for Something You Really Want

MOST of us make money enough to provide the things we want. The trouble is that we carelessly spend our money for things that we don't care much about. We just let it slip through our fingers.

If you want a car, a home, a vacation trip, you can have them if you will save your money as you make it. And right now is a splendid time to commence saving. You know, of course, that the Citizens & Southern Bank pays compound interest on savings deposits, and you know, too, how quickly compound interest increases.

If you will open an account in the Savings Department of either of our four Atlanta offices before the close of business on Tuesday, September 8, we will pay you interest from September 1.

THE SOUTHERN SERVES THE SOUTH

As the South grows the Southern must keep pace

Freight traffic on the Southern Railway System has nearly doubled in ten years.

With the South growing at its present rate, traffic a few years hence will be double what it now is.

Many millions of dollars of new capital will have to be found for increasing the capacity of tracks, yards, terminals and shops, and the purchase of cars and engines.

This needed new capital will be attracted to the Southern if the profits from its operation are maintained at a level to establish a broad market for its securities.

SCIENCE FINDS A SURE REMEDY FOR CHILLS AND FEVER

Contains No Quinine Yet
Banishes Such Germs.
Wards Off Attacks

REMEMBER THIS IF YOU HAVE ATTACK

Malarial symptoms, fever, chills and kindred ills can now be prevented easily and if already attacked, all weakness, suffering, loss of appetite, and danger can be quickly overcome without the use of Quinine, thanks to modern chemistry.

Science has found that better results come when they remove the quinine and only use the other derivatives of Cinchona Bark. Better and quicker results are secured with none of the bad after effects of the quinine itself. In other words they now produce a remedy with the good left in and the bad left out.

A few doses of this remedy which is called Babek, immediately banishes the chills, fevers and other symptoms and revives in an astonishing manner the user's strength, appetite, vigor and vitality.

Babek is the discovery of the famous Polish chemists, Kloczewski & Co., of Washington, D. C. Already it is being adopted by physicians in preference to quinine in far off lands where Malaria is found in its worst form. People here no matter how chronically affected will find it to be the quickest, surest and best remedy for such troubles, either mild or severe. Local druggists are featuring Babek. If your own druggist hasn't been supplied ask him to get you a 65c bottle from the jobber or write Kloczewski & Co., Chemists, Washington, D. C., for a bottle parcel post.—(adv.)

CORONER PROBES DEATH OF BRANCH

Investigation of the death of Arthur B. Branch, 42, a railroad district yardmaster at the Atlanta Joint terminals, was found dead Tuesday morning in the yards by a negro employee, will be continued today. A coroner's inquest will be held this morning at the T. C. Bazemore undertaking parlors where the body was taken.

Dr. Homer Redd is examining the viscera and will determine if possible if Mr. Branch was poisoned. Members of the family are cooperating in the investigation.

It is reported that Mr. Branch had been attacked sometime before and had been robbed of about $100. Although he had his pay with him Tuesday morning it had not been bothered.

He lived at 9 Forsyth street, and is survived by a brother, E. E. Branch, who is credit manager of the Davison-Paxon-Stokes company; two sisters, Mrs. C. H. Epps and Mrs. Paul Hammons; and one daughter, Miss Lillouise Branch.

What is believed to be a record for attendance in the city fire department has been established by Walter E. Jones, signal operator, who until last Sunday had missed only one day in the past 23 years of service. Mr. Jones was stricken with an attack of indigestion which confined him to his bed Sunday.

MOTHER AND CHILD ARE LAID TO REST

Joint funeral services for Mrs. G. F. Tweedy, 35, of 129 Oakland street, and her infant son, who was born 10 minutes after her death Sunday afternoon at Grady hospital, were held Tuesday morning at 10:30 o'clock from the chapel of Harry G. Poole. Interment was in Greenwood cemetery.

Besides her husband, she is survived by five children, Catherine, Ruth, Harry, William and Philip; a sister, Mrs. Luther Prichard, and two brothers, James and Andrew Allison.

BRIDGES IS APPOINTED
FULTON GAME WARDEN

Horace G. Bridges, of 80 Hess avenue, was appointed Tuesday by Peter F. Tweedy, state game and fish warden, to succeed Dr. Frank Edmondson as game warden for Fulton county. Mr. Bridges formerly was assistant cashier in the secretary of state's office, and will have his office in the state game and fish warden's room at the capitol.

EXCHANGE CLUB HEARS

Campfire Girls and their activities were the theme of two talks given Tuesday at the noon luncheon of the Exchange club at the Henry Grady. Dudley Cole, executive secretary of the Campfire Girls in Atlanta, and Miss Helen Bagby, assistant executive secretary, were the speakers.

LOSS OF AFFECTIONS VALUED AT $25,000

Charging alienation of his wife's affections, Albert E. Gossett, Tuesday filed suit in Fulton superior court for $25,000 damages and asked the court to restrain A. Bryan Wynne, of 136 Peachtree street, from interfering with or paying attention to his wife, Mrs. Ouita Gossett. Mr. and Mrs. Gossett were married on January 17, 1921.

The petition filed by Gossett's lawyer, C. Don Miller, sets forth that the defendant met Mrs. Gossett April 15, 1923, and began paying her attention. The petition further claims that Wynne began showering Gossett's wife with presents and so influenced her against her husband that she filed suit for annulment of the marriage.

Judge W. D. Ellis, of Fulton superior court, Tuesday morning issued a temporary injunction restraining the defendant from interfering with either Gossett or his wife.

WALKER ON VACATION

Governor Will Spend Week for Thorough Rest.

Governor Clifford Walker will leave today on a week's vacation to rest up out of the aches and pains of state duties. Asked his vacation plans, Governor Walker Tuesday smiled and said that he would merely disappear from the realms of statecraft for a week, would go somewhere for a thorough rest and relaxation.

G. M. A.'S ENROLLMENT BREAKS ALL RECORDS

Colonel J. C. Woodward, president of Georgia Military academy, has just returned to College Park and Atlanta from Camp Highland Lake, G. M. A.'s North Carolina summer school, to make preparations for the opening of the academy's twenty-sixth year. He reports an unusual enrollment for the coming term, applications having exceeded all previous records. The enrollment covers every section of the United States, with a number of representatives from Spain, Mexico, Cuba and Porto Rico.

Captain McFadyen and Sergeant Johnson are now on the campus formulating plans for a battalion of four full companies and a large band and staff. It will be remembered that G. M. A. was this year designated as one of the twelve "honor schools" of the United States, the highest rating accorded by the war department.

RED CROSS TO SUPPLY SOLDIERS GIFT BAGS

Mrs. Ona S. Moise, executive secretary of the Atlanta Red Cross announced Tuesday that request for Christmas bags for members of the army, navy and marine corps stationed at foreign posts has been made to the local chapter by the national organization. It is an annual custom for the Red Cross to give the bags filled with small gifts.

The bags are to be delivered at headquarters by September 15. They are to be made of bright-colored cretonne and finished 10 inches square. Each should contain from eight to ten articles. Mrs. Moise announced that those wishing to aid should call the Red Cross office, Walnut 9219.

Catarh Neglected Causes Deafness

Read How You May Get Rid of
It by a Safe Reliable Way.

If you have catarh you are in danger of losing your hearing; the first symptoms of catarh deafness are roaring or buzzing sensations and a stopped-up feeling in the ears. A neglected cold, or an uncurbed cold, leads to catarh, and as everybody knows catarh affects the eyes, ears, nose, throat, lungs and frequently undermines the general health.

The secret of the successful medication of these hidden parts was discovered by Dr. Blosser in his medical practice. This remedy is applied by smoking a certain combination of herbs (containing no tobacco) in a pipe or cigarette. Dr. Blosser's Remedy produces a dense smoke vapor which is inhaled or forced into the Eustachian tubes leading to the middle ear. It penetrates to parts impossible to reach with balms, salves, sprays, douches, pills, tablets, liquids and so-called "constitutional treatments."

This remedy is absolutely harmless and is being used successfully by men, women and children.

You can get from any drug store a convenient pocket size package of Dr. Blosser's Cigarettes and prove for yourself their pleasant beneficial effects.—(adv.)

Stops carbon knocks

It gives us great pleasure to announce NO-NOX our new Motor Fuel. NO-NOX is the product of many months of exhaustive, scientific and chemical research by a staff of our own skilled chemists, infinite care being given to all details to insure the absolute perfection of NO-NOX Motor Fuel. Strenuous nights and days were spent in our thoroughly equipped laboratories by these scientists before NO-NOX Motor Fuel was perfected. Hard grilling road tests followed to develop any weakness overlooked in the laboratory, and we are now ready to offer the most efficient anti-knock fuel in the world.

Manufactured in one refinery under the same skillful supervision and from the same grades of crude; it is continuously uniform which means much in carburetion. When the carburetor is once properly adjusted it requires no further change—care should be taken to see that the mixture is not too rich as NO-NOX works best with a thin mixture, thus insuring economy. With NO-NOX, perfect combustion takes place at just the right position of the piston head which entirely does away with carbon knocks or motor detonation—promoting greater efficiency of the engine, smoother operation of the car on the road, in traffic, and especially on heavy grades.

This wonderfully efficient gas is guaranteed to be Non-Noxious, Non-Poisonous and no more harmful to man or motor than ordinary gasoline.

NO-NOX is priced only three cents per gallon higher than That Good Gulf Gasoline.

Drive to the nearest Gulf Service Station and try it out. It is readily distinguished by its color.

be able to reach the shelter of the island of Maui, the nearest landing. "We will crack up if we have to land in this rough weather with no motor power," read one message from the plane to the Aroostook, which then was on station 1,800 miles from the California coast, and less than 300 miles from Honolulu, the intended destination of the flight.

Another message asked: "Are you in the rain?" The Aroostook replied affirmatively.

The first message of actual distress was transmitted at 1:18 p. m., when the seaplane, Commander John Rodgers, broadcast the following to all navy stations able to hear it:

"Plane very low on gasoline and doubt ability to reach destination. Keep careful lookout."

The next message was addressed to the Tanager, reading:

"Plane keep good watch. Gas is about all gone. Think it impossible to get in."

A series of similar messages followed:

"Running out of gas. Will probably have to land at Aroostook or Tanager. Please stand by."

"Plane low gas. Asking bearings from Aroostook."

The last messages intercepted were fragmentary requests for radio compass bearings from the Aroostook and the Tanager. The last bearings furnished indicated the ship's position as between those two surface ships.

The navy's machinery for hunting down the seaplane after she failed to answer radio calls was quickly set in motion. In addition to the Aroostook and the Tanager, the Farragut, the next nearest surface ship, 200 miles northeast of the Aroostook's station, was called into the search. At 2:40 p. m., the Farragut reported position latitude 24-08, longitude 15-11, while proceeding along the base flight course at a 27-knot gait.

"I expect to arrive at the estimated position of the plane about 3:30 p. m.," the Farragut's commander radioed.

From the Hawaii side two submarines attached to the Pearl Harbor base were sent out, and an airplane from Lihala, Island of Maui, took off in an effort to find the ship before nightfall.

NAVY SEAPLANE PB-1 WILL HOP OFF THURSDAY

San Francisco, September 1.—(AP) The navy seaplane PB-1, which was unable to accompany the two planes on the proposed flight to Honolulu yesterday on account of motor replacements, will take off on an attempted non-stop flight to the Hawaiian Islands at 2 o'clock Thursday afternoon.

Captain Stanford Moses, flight project commander, announced that the PB-1, the largest of the three planes which were to make the flight, would take the air alone after several test flights during the day had been successfully completed. The giant ship developed motor trouble on its flight from Seattle more than a week ago and replacement of motors and incident repairs made it necessary to postpone the flight.

150 Miles From Maui

The missing plane that is believed to have descended to the surface after developing motor trouble on its flight from Seattle more than a week ago and replacement of motors and incident repairs made it necessary to postpone the flight.

If the plane had continued on scheduled time, it would have reached Honolulu at 7 p. m.

Reaching the supposed vicinity of the believed forced descent at 6 o'clock three United States navy ships, several submarines and an airplane have since cruised the waters without finding the plane or its crew.

Without definite word.

Five hours after the last direct word had been received from the PB-1, No. 1, the project flight commander's office was still without definite word as to the fate of the big seaplane and its crew of five men headed by Captain John Rodgers.

Whether the PB-1, No. 3, which took off yesterday, and was being towed back to San Francisco tonight after being forced down about 300 miles out, will make another attempt, will be decided after an inspection of the ship when she returns here, Captain Moses said.

The navy vessels stationed at intervals of about 200 miles along the course, will hold to their positions for the flight of the PB-1.

MOFFETT DISAPPOINTED BUT NOT DISCOURAGED

San Francisco, September 1.—(AP) Admiral William A. Moffett, chief of the navy bureau of aeronautics, expressed himself here today as "disappointed but not discouraged" at the unsuccessful termination of the first proposed non-stop flight from the mainland to the Hawaiian Islands.

"We will try again tomorrow with another plane," Admiral Moffett said. "If that does not go through, we will try again. We will keep on trying until we get there."

"The PB-1 No. 1 has remained a longer period in the air than she has in this test. She has shown that she can make the flight."

Admiral Moffett expressed the opinion that the PB-1 No. 1 would return from a destroyer or mine sweeper and complete the flight into Honolulu.

"That's the course she would presumably take," he said.

THE CONSTITUTION, ATLANTA, GA., WEDNESDAY, SEPTEMBER 2, 1925.

RUTH READY PHILADELPHIA TO RETRACT REMARKS

New York, September 1.—(AP)—Despite Babe Ruth's conciliatory moves and offer to apologize for his criticism of Miller Huggins, manager of the Yankees, he will not be reinstated for at least several days, if then, Huggins announced late today.

Ruth, penitent and subdued after the stormy outburst that followed his suspension and $5,000 fine in St. Louis for "misconduct off the field," made a vain effort to conciliate Huggins after he had first made some headway in a peace offer to Colonel Jacob Ruppert, club owner, who sought to bring the manager and player together.

Huggins, however, refused a conference with Ruth when they met in the clubhouse before today's game with the Red Sox. The manager announced he would take no action for at least two days and probably longer, insisting that Ruth must come to a full realization of his errors before seeking reinstatement.

Colonel Ruppert expressed confidence that Ruth would make his peace with Huggins, but said the matter rested entirely in the manager's hands.

The present situation is fraught with serious possibilities. Mr. Patterson inclined to the view that the present situation will hinge to a great extent on whether belligerent coal workers will be called from their work.

The price of domestic coal has advanced from $7 and $7.25 ten days ago to $7.75 to $8 a ton at the present date, Mr. Patterson said. This price increase is well below the price of coal during the railroad congestion of 1919 and the strike of 1922, however.

"Coal prices increased steadily during August," Mr. Meinert said, "the reason being that people north of the Ohio valley pay more attention to their coal supply than do the people of the south. Atlanta is in good shape at present in regard to her coal supply and the government claims to have at least a 90-day supply on hand. But with 100,000 coal miners out on strike, the situation may become more serious."

Football Players Helped Across Faculty Barriers

This is the fourth of a series of articles, written by the graduate manager of one of America's greatest universities. He has been in college football for 18 years. He believes that the time has come to bring football finances into the light. This is a story worth listening to, told out of a long experience and a rich fund of information.

CHAPTER IV. Football "Rats" and "Widows."

(Copyright, 1925, by North American Newspaper Alliance.) An old friend of mine, a veteran in American college athletics, was responsible a few years ago for establishing the "rats" in American universities. My friend was the graduate manager of a sizable eastern college. He was summoned by the dean, a suave and dignified gentleman of the old school. The dean said:

"I have learned recently that some of the men who are competing for the football team have been lapsing in their scholarship. While perhaps some slight concessions might be made, during the few weeks of intense training, we cannot sacrifice scholarship to athletics, and I wish you would inform the candidates for the team that they will be held rigidly to the college requirements."

My friend replied:

"I thoroughly realize the importance of this and I assure you that we will impress our men with the necessity of keeping up with their studies, and we will give all possible cooperation with the faculty in seeing that they do so."

Talk to Coach Different.

This is typical of the usual interchange between the graduate manager and the faculty. It might be printed on the first page of any newspaper without any "comeback" from anybody. But not so the remarks of the graduate manager to the head coach that night. He said:

"Old Spilvers is out to pluck some of our best men unless we can get them hopped up so that they can sneak by in their classes. We've got to dog these tramps around and see that they get to their classes, and we've got to fix up some kind of a system of easing them through the examinations."

"How are we going to do it?" asked the coach. "We've got our hands full as it is."

Origin of the "Rats."

There was a long discussion. Out of it grew the suggestion that certain undergraduates be employed to trail the laggards, to report their attendance or non-attendance at classes, to check up on their study and leisure hours, and to get, compile and deliver all holes today with a 74 that, with his 73 Monday, gave him a total of 147. But Bob showed today that he wasn't after the medal. He let MacKenzie go after the medal and is saving his own best golf for the match play that gives him one of the toughest contenders in the tournament for tomorrow.

Bob had one six on the back side today, but it was a result of relaxing. After the round Bob made a remark that told the story of his second round.

"The round today wasn't nearly as hard as the one Monday," Jones said. "I was fairly well satisfied yesterday with 73, for it gave me assurance that I would be in unless I absolutely went to pieces today."

Relaxation Telling.
"I was even better satisfied when I made the 38 going out this morning, for then I knew that I could mightily blow up and still be in the first 16. I didn't let down, but I relaxed and the relaxation showed on No. 12, 14 and No. 15 when I whacked my tee shots into traps to the left of the fairway. That was what gave me the six on No. 12."

Bob's relaxation did something else to his game today, too. On the first 15 holes he was hitting a great ball from the tee and his pitches were true to the pin, but his putting was not Jones putting. He took an extra stroke or two at the beginning of the last nine, but where he had been taking two putts with regularity, he settled down at the sixteenth green and canned his first putt for 343 on 17 and 18.

Jones' card was as follows:
Out 544 444 444—38
In 444 343 444—74 73—147

Bob was tied for second place with Jess Guilford, who shot a 73 today that was added to a 74 yesterday. Jess Sweetser, who shot a 74 and a fourth best score 151, made with a 75 yesterday and a 76 today. His card today contained a seven on the par five first hole but he was just one over four on the rest of the round.

BOBBY WATTS' CRACKERS

Atlanta, Sept. 1.—(AP)—The Atlanta Crackers, who were the defending champions, lost to the Chicago Cubs, 12 to 11, in a thrilling game at the Atlanta Crackers stadium today.

The game was a close one, with the Crackers leading 11 to 10 in the ninth inning. But the Cubs scored two runs in the bottom of the ninth to win the game.

The Crackers' pitcher, Walter Johnson, pitched a brilliant game, allowing only one run in nine innings. He was hit by one batter and struck out 10.

Ninth-Inning Rally Is Asasurous; Atlanta Holds Southern Lead

Memphis, Tenn

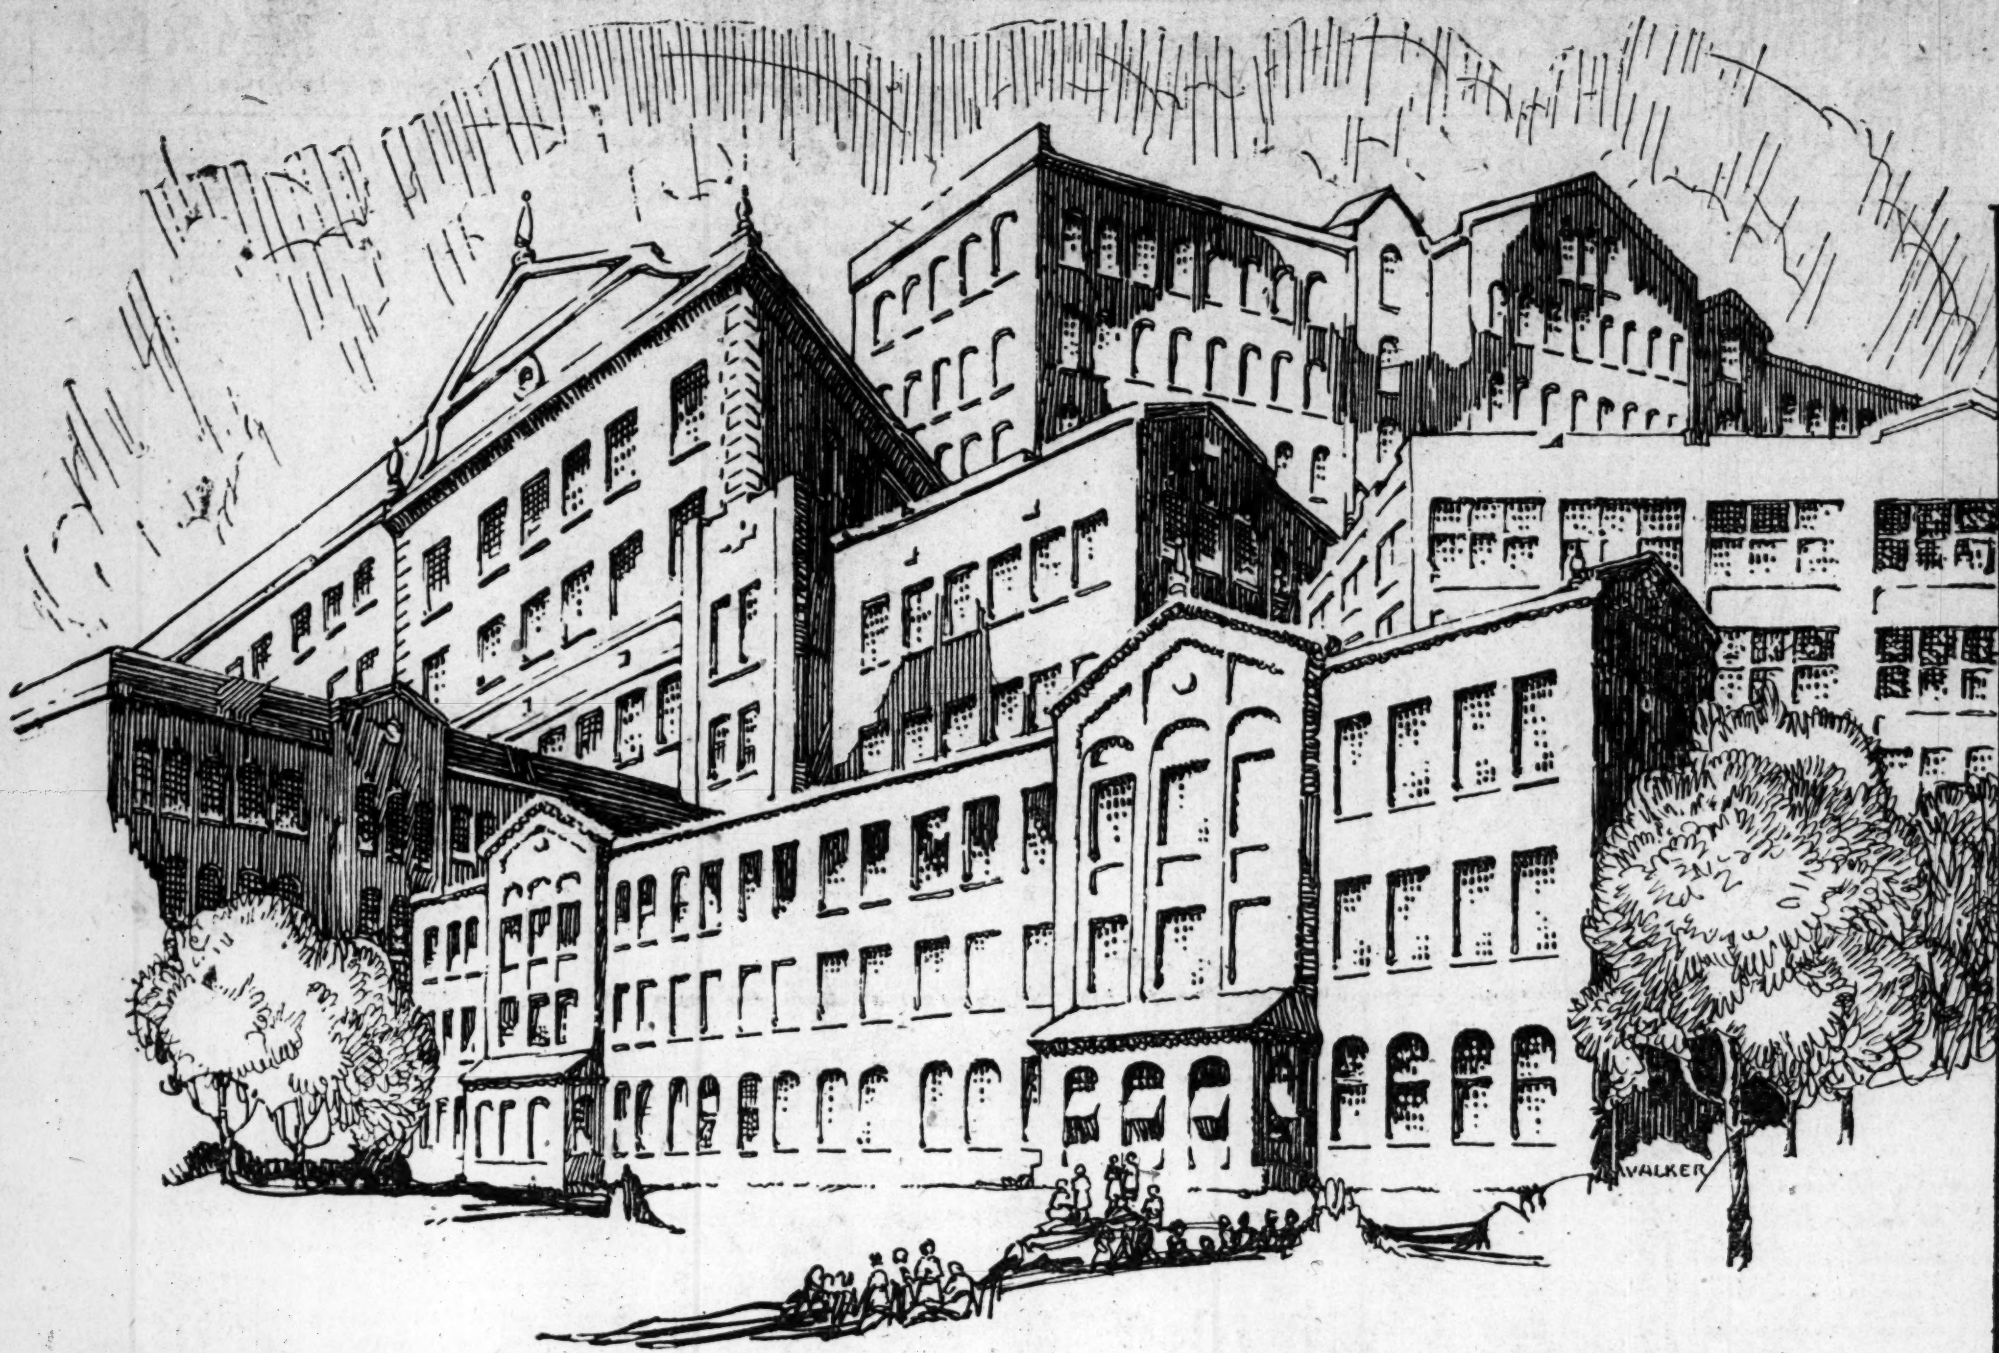

The Constitution is indebted to the Industrial Bureau of the Atlanta Chamber of Commerce for statistics quoted in this series of advertisements about Atlanta. The Chamber of Commerce has completed a thorough and comprehensive survey of Atlanta's resources and possibilities. This survey has brought out some startling facts which every Atlantian should know.

Facts about Atlanta

Atlanta's power supply, generated by the Georgia Railway and Power Company, runs into millions of kilowatt hours annually. For 1924, 395,000,000 kilowatt hours were supplied to Atlanta and about 500,000,000 kilowatt hours annually could be delivered if required.

*****

Grant Park, one of the oldest parks in the city, not only abounds in natural beauty, but also affords to the public several unusual and interesting features. Housed in a fire-proof brick structure is a stupendous cyclorama painting of the Battle of Atlanta, of great historic and artistic value. Grant Park also maintains a fine zoo and carefully tended botanical gardens.

*****

No city of similar size and population can equal, and few larger cities can surpass Atlanta in the class, kind and character of its office buildings. The rental area of these buildings amounts to 2,499,166 square feet. The completed Hurt Building ranks as the sixteenth largest office building in the world, and the good part about it is that every office is rented.

*****

Carlot unloads for Atlanta during 1924 of fruits and vegetables amounted to 5,611 cars. These products were shipped from 35 states in the union, from far-distant California to neighboring Florida.

*****

Atlanta's postoffice receipts during 1924 totaled $3,408,368.13, an increase of nearly a million dollars over the amount of receipts in 1920. This exceeded any record heretofore made.

Atlanta's Schools

*The City's Finest Industry---Making
Tomorrow's Men and Women*

No city finds a higher expression of civic responsibility than in its public schools. They are the laboratory from which, through the alchemy of knowledge, emerge the worth-while men and women of tomorrow.

Atlanta can well be proud of its system of preparatory education. For Atlanta's accomplishments in public school education in the past few years seem incredible to those who are not familiar with these activities.

Atlanta's five and three-quarter million dollar new building program came to a completion with the opening of the new Senior High School for Girls January 5, 1925.

This new high school has been designated by some of America's most distinguished educators as one of the finest in the country. The new school will accommodate 1,500 pupils. Its equipment includes the most modern and advanced methods of learning—a fine library, bright classrooms, shining home economics rooms, well-fitted science laboratories, lunch rooms, and a complete housekeeping unit, consisting of dining room, kitchen, pantry, bathroom, and bedroom—a model unit for the purpose of training girls in home management.

It is an institution where both keenness of mind and dexterity of hand are emphasized—where young girls of Atlanta are taught to be capable, wholesome and versatile. The cost of this building was $491,- 000; to this add $40,000 for equipment and $75,000 for the value of the lot—a total value of $606,000. Thus, from the first small building on Whitehall and Hunter streets, which Sherman used as headquarters during the Civil War, Girls' High School has grown to the stupendous proportions of the present magnificent structure.

The new Senior High School for Boys is an architectural and engineering triumph. It is located on a 25-acre tract at Jackson and Tenth streets. The building cost $459,000, and the grounds, grading, new equipment cost $102,000, making the cost to date $561,500, exclusive of the $25,000 worth of equipment contributed by the old school. Both technical and classical courses, or a combination of both are offered, and the boys are trained to the highest standards in the classroom and on the athletic field.

Atlanta now has 76 elementary schools, 4 Junior High Schools, and 4 Senior High Schools, with a 1924 enrollment of 54,144 pupils—an increase of 21,452 over the enrollment of 1920. Eighteen new school buildings were erected and completed in about two years—13 for white pupils and 5 for negro pupils.

Despite the unusual magnificence of Atlanta's school buildings and the superior quality of instruction afforded, Atlanta's per capita cost per pupil is very low, being but $49.58. The average per capita educational cost in cities of the country in Atlanta's class is $91.94. In many cities the per capita cost is over $100.00, the highest being $121.00.

WEYBURN TO DIRECT "MUSICAL REVIEW OF 1926"

Mrs. Newman Elected President
Of Atlanta Junior League

By Mary Hawkins Strober.

Mrs. Henry Newman was elected president of the Atlanta Junior League for the 1925-1926 term at a special meeting of the league held at the Piedmont Driving club on Tuesday afternoon. Mrs. Newman was elected to fill the place of Mrs. Hunter Muse, who tendered her resignation after being elected as president for the 1925-1926 term at the last spring meeting.

Mrs. Lott Warren, ex-officio, presided at the meeting, and the newly elected officers for 1925-1926, who are Mrs. Charles Orme, second vice president; Mrs. Wayne Martin, corresponding secretary; Mrs. DeSales Harrison, recording secretary, and Mrs. Grover Middlebrooks, treasurer. Mrs. Charles Freeman, who as first vice president, and the nominating committee's choice for president, was not present due to her absence from the city.

Mrs. Hunter Muse's resignation was presented at a board meeting, held on August 7, and it was therefore necessary that a new president be elected. As Mrs. Freeman, who was first vice president, refused to accept the office of president, as she was urged, but preferred to have the election take place from the floor.

Weyburn 1926 Follies.
Ned Weyburn, successful producer of elaborate musical revues and follies, will again put on the annual entertainment of the league. This very interesting fact was decided at the meeting yesterday. This year it will be a musical revue, which will have its premiere on Monday evening, August 5, 1926, at the Atlanta theater. After Mr. Weyburn's proposition was read to the league, Mrs. Stanley Pearce made a motion that the league accept it, which motion was seconded and unanimously carried. The musical revue which the league will put on under the direction of this foremost producer, bids fair to surpass anything ever seen in Atlanta. All Atlanta, fresh, enthusiastic and full of ardor, will greet this performance, the first of the post-Lenten affairs, with warmth and fervor.

Mrs. Eugene Harrington, successful chairman of the entertainment committee for the Follies of 1925, has graciously accepted the chairmanship of the entertainment committee for 1926, which immediately assures the undoubted success of the 1926 musical revue.

Rich's Fashion Show.

The meeting was opened by the reading of the minutes of the board meeting which was held on August 7, by the corresponding secretary, Mrs. DeSales Harrison. At this board meeting the league consented to assist in a fashion show to be held at M. Rich & Bros. company on September 15, when the league girls will display the latest fall fashions.

Mrs. Pottinger then read Mrs. Muse's resignation, and gave Mrs. Charles Freeman's name as the choice of the nominating committee for president, to serve in Mrs. Muse's place. Mrs. Ed Peoples suggested that other names be put up from the floor and named Mrs. Henry Newman. Mrs. Stanley Pearce seconded Mrs. Newman's name. Mrs. Newman was elected over Mrs. Freeman by one vote.

Corresponding Secretary Elected.
Due to the fact that Mrs. Wayne Martin is moving to Florida, to make her home, it was also necessary to elect a corresponding secretary in her place. Mrs. Pottinger submitted the nominating committee's choice, who was Mrs. Charles Wood. Mrs. Bruce Woodruff's name was put up from the floor, but she requested that her name be withdrawn, and then Mrs. Frank Owens was elected.

There is no by-law that contends with the condition that arose in the recent election, and a motion was made that an amendment to the constitution be made to meet such emergencies. This could not be done at this meeting, however, but Mrs. Warren suggested an amendment be gotten up, signed and presented to the board.

Work for Year.
Mrs. Warren outlined in a general way the work of the league for the coming year. The work will be concentrated on the Good Samaritan Gland Clinic. Educational authorities are backing the league in this work, which is most important.

Every child in the special classes of the public schools will have mental and physical examinations. Dr. Arch Elkin will give three weeks of his time at the beginning of school to these examinations. Those that are not glandular cases will be taken to Emory university hospital clinic, where medical and surgical cases will be treated under Dr. W. W. Anderson. Professor Sutton is very much interested in this work, as all the children in the special classes will thus receive treatment.

Among the members of the league who were present at the meeting were: Jack Simpson, Mrs. William McKenzie, Mrs. John Westmoreland, Mrs. Frank Alcorn, Mrs. Glenn Ryman, Mrs. Bruce Woodruff, Mrs. John Knox, Mrs. Murdoch Ecken, Mrs. Clem Evans, Mrs. Dana Belser, Mrs. John O. Donaldson, Mrs. Julian Robinson, Mrs. Charles Palmer, Mrs. Robert Frontman, Mrs. Walter Weiborn, Mrs. Rankin Manley, Mrs. Mary Hines Gussulius, Mrs. Edward Carter, Misses Elizabeth Hawkins, Ida Souder, Harriet Shelden, Will Hawkins, Mrs. Eugene Black, Jr., Mrs. Reginald Pope, Mrs. William Huger, Mrs. Leabrant Marshall, Mrs. Robert T. Jones, Jr., Mrs. Floyd McIlwain, Mrs. Willis Ragun, Mrs. Charles Wood, Mrs. Robert Barrett, Mrs. Jack Theisen, Mrs. Frank Owens, Mrs. Robert Foreman, Jr., Mrs. Clark Howell, Jr., Mrs. William P. Nicholson, Misses Jennie Robinson, Caroline Nicholson, Garder Horton, Mrs. Lon Grove, Mrs. Marion Smith, Mrs. W. W. Finley, Mrs. Bernard Boykin, Mrs. Dan McDougald, Mrs. Evelyn Gay, Mrs. Dugas McCleskey, Mrs. Jerry Osborne, Mrs. Charles Black, Mrs. Clarence Haverly, Mrs. Ben Gantt, Mrs. Edwin Peoples, Miss Elizabeth Hawkins, Mrs. Stanley Pearce, Mrs. Henry Thompson, Mrs. Rogers Toy, Mrs. Joel Hurt, Mrs. Charles Freeman, Mrs. Hughes Roberts, Mrs. George Raine, Mrs. Robert White, Jr., Mrs. Louis Gregg, Mrs. Van Hall, Mrs. Lawrence Willett, Mrs. George Bell, Mrs. Rucker McCarty, Mrs. Dorothy Harman Stringfellow and others.

Labor Day Dance At Capital City.

The Labor Day dinner-dance to be given Monday, September 7, at the roof garden of the Capital City club, will be one of the most brilliant affairs of the season, and will assemble many club members and visitors.

Dinner will be served at 8 o'clock, and Warner's Seven Aces will render the music. Among those who have made reservations are Mr. and Mrs. Paul E. Johnson, Mr. and Mrs. C. J. Baker and F. S. Hodler.

Mr. and Mrs. Weyman Honored by Parents.

Mr. and Mrs. George Weyman, who returned Tuesday from their bridal trip to Europe, were honored Tuesday evening with a dinner party at the Piedmont Driving club by their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Rutherford Lipscomb.

Mrs. Weyman was before her marriage Miss Mary Ann Lipscomb, a feted and attractive debutante of the past winter. Mr. and Mrs. Weyman will spend a short time with their parents, Mr. and Mrs. S. T. Weyman, at their home on East Fourteenth street, before taking possession of their apartment.

Seated at the attractively-appointed table were a group of close friends of the honor guests.

Prenuptial Parties Honor Miss Speir.

Miss Evelyn Speir, whose marriage to Kirk Ladd Peacock will be an interesting event of September 10, will be entertained at a number of affairs prior to her wedding.

Miss Martine Rogers will entertain at a theater party on Saturday afternoon. Following the matinee tea will be served on the open terrace of the Henry Grady hotel.

Mrs. J. C. Hipp will honor Miss Speir with a bridge-throw on Monday afternoon at her home on Rosedale road.

White Rose Circle To Sponsor Dance.

On Thursday evening, September 3, the White Rose circle of Cherokee Rose lodge L. A. to B. R. L. will sponsor a dance at Spiller's dance pavilion, Spiller's park. Splendid music will be furnished. The W. O. W. quartet will give several entertaining features during the evening. One 60 cent ticket will admit two people. The public is invited.

"Glad Girls" Class Holds Meeting.

The "Glad Girls" class of the Clarkston Baptist Sunday school met Saturday afternoon, August 29, at the church for their regular monthly business meeting.

The meeting was opened by the teacher, followed by prayer from the president. New officers were elected as follows: Miss Katherine Bennett, president; Miss Evelyn Harris, vice president; Miss Myrtice Jackson, secretary, and Miss Willie Mae Anderson, treasurer. New business was discussed after which delicious refreshments were served.

Baptist Missionary To Meet Friday.

The executive board of the Baptist Women's Missionary union will meet with Mrs. J. Lawrence Turner Friday, September 4. All the officers are urged to be present, meeting at the Georgian Terrace hotel so that cars which will be furnished may leave promptly at 2 p. m.

Georgia's Fallen Heroes To Have Memorial.

At the recent session of the Georgia legislature the War Mothers Service Star legion placed in the hands of Hon. Clifford Hatcher, of Waynesboro, an earnest appeal that a strong committee be named to at once consider the erection of a fit memorial to Georgia's fallen heroes of the world war, a sacred duty already too long delayed.

The resolution was signed by W. Cecil Neill, speaker of the house; J. H. Ennis, president of the senate; E. B. Moore, clerk of the house; D. F. McClatchey, secretary of the senate, and bears the approval of Governor Walker. The War Mothers Service

Miss Mann Weds Mr. Roberts. At Beautiful Home Ceremony

One of the loveliest of the early fall weddings was that of Miss Lillian Mann, daughter of Mrs. Janie Mann, and Hugh Roberts, Jr., which took place on Tuesday evening at 8:30 o'clock, at the home of the bride's mother on North Jackson street.

The home was beautifully decorated throughout. Ferns, southern spruce and baskets of pink and white gladioli were used in artistic arrangement.

There was an improvised altar in the living room, before which the ceremony was performed by Dr. Charles W. Daniel, pastor of the First Baptist church. An aide led to this altar, through which the bride and her attendants entered. White ribbons, draped from pedestals, entwined with ferns and smilax, formed the aisle, which began at the steps and passed through the music room into the living room. The altar was banked with palms and foliage plants. In the center was a tall white, pedestal basket filled with white gladioli. Cathedral candelabra, which held 12 lighted candles, were placed on either side of the altar.

Immediately preceding the ceremony Hugo Johnson rendered a violin solo, Schubert's Serenade, and Miss Manie Florence sang "I Love You Truly." Mrs. Horace Paul was at the piano.

and played the wedding march from Lohengrin as the bridal party entered.

Attendants.
Miss Mamie Taylor and Miss Minnie Mackin, were the bridesmaids and the first to enter. Miss Taylor wore a buff-colored chiffon gown fashioned over yellow satin. It was made basque erect, with full skirt. Dainty French flowers were used as a trimming. She carried an arm bouquet of pink roses, showered with swainsons and tied with pink tulle. Miss Mackin was gowned in pink chiffon. Her gown was made similar to Miss Taylor's and her flowers were alike also.

Miss Mann had as her matron of honor her sister, Mrs. Norman Politt, who preceded the bride. Her gown was of white chiffon fashioned over flesh satin. It was fashioned along straight lines, and she carried a shower bouquet of Ophelia roses, showered with swainsons.

Lovely Bride.
The bride entered with her brother Howard N. Mann, of Tampa, Fla., who gave her in marriage. They were met at the altar by the groom and his best man, his brother, J. W. Roberts.

The bride was lovely in her bridal gown of white duchess satin, made along straight lines in front, with basque effect in the back and a flare to the skirt. It was trimmed with tiny seed pearls and white ostrich feathers. Around the neck was a tiny border of seed pearls. Her only ornament was a diamond and platinum bar pin, the gift of the groom. Her veil of misty white tulle was caught to her hair in cap effect. A wreath of orange blossoms holding it in shape. Dainty brides-lace bordered the edge of the tulle. The veil fell at length forming a train, and there were three bands of brides-lace at the edge of the train. Her bouquet was of brides roses, showered with swainsons and valley lilies.

Reception.
Following the ceremony there was an informal reception given by Mrs. Janie Mann, mother of the bride. She was assisted in entertaining, and had receiving with her, besides the bride and groom, Miss Nellie J. Smith, Mrs. R. L. Neely, Mrs. Alice Taylor and Mrs. L. A. Mann. Miss Helen Bennett served punch and Mrs. Charles R. Shaw kept the brides book.

The brides' table was beautifully appointed. It was covered with an exquisite lace cloth and had as a central decoration a beautifully iced three-tiered wedding cake. A bride and groom were placed on top of the cake, which was embellished with pink and white roses. All the appointments of the table were carried out in the color scheme of pink and white, the mints and ices being in the shape of pink and white hearts. Silver candelholders held lighted pink tapers, and surrounding the wedding cake was a wreath of pink and white roses and gladioli.

Wedding Journey.
Later in the evening Mr. and Mrs. Roberts left for a motor trip through Florida, and after September 15 they will be at home at 1443 Southwest Fourth street, Miami, Fla. A maid in Mrs. Roberts is the daughter of Mrs. Janie Mann and the late Adam C. Mann, pioneer citizen of Atlanta. She graduated from the Girls' High school and later from the Atlanta Conservatory of Music. She is an accomplished musician of piano and has a beautiful voice. She is the sister of Mrs. Norman Politt and Howard Mann, of Tampa, Fla., and Herman C. Mann.

Mr. Roberts who is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Roberts, Sr., of Miami, Fla., is a graduate of the University of Florida, and is a member of the Kappa Sigma fraternity. He is a civil engineer and one of a firm of prominent engineers in Miami Fla.

Mr. and Mrs. Shelton Honor Mrs. Spalding.

An enjoyable event of Tuesday evening was the party given by Mr. and Mrs. Charles Shelton at a dinner-dance at the Capital City club. This affair was in honor of Mrs. Jack Spalding, of New York, who is the guest of her sister, Mrs. John Holmes, on Cherokee road.

Those invited for this delightful occasion were Mr. and Mrs. John Holmes, Mr. and Mrs. Strother Fleming and Dr. Champ Holmes. Many other parties are being given for this attractive visitor, who will be pleasantly remembered as Miss Nancy Prince, of Atlanta.

Visitors Honored at Luncheon and Bridge.

Misses Mary Vereen, of Moultrie, and Ethel Woodruff, of Columbus, were honor guests at the luncheon given Tuesday by Mrs. Geraldine White at the Druid Hills Golf club. Miss Bessie White assisted her sister in entertaining.

Miss Elizabeth Thompson was hostess at a bridge-tee Tuesday afternoon given at her home on Fairview road in Druid Hills to these charming young girls, who are visiting Miss Jaquelin Moore and Julia Mendor. Miss Thompson was assisted in entertaining by her mother, Mrs. C. S. Thompson.

The guests included a group of Atlanta girls who attended Rockbrook camp during the past summer.

Miss LeConte Is Hostess At House Party

One of the most delightful house parties of the season was that at which Miss Lillian LeConte entertained at the summer home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. James Thompson Williams, at Clayton, Ga., the past week.

The lovely mountain roads and the blue waters of the lake made riding, swimming and boating attractive features of this enjoyable occasion.

Those invited for this affair were Miss Josephine Houston, of Charlotte, N. C.; Miss Mary Mackey Hough, of Lancaster, S. C.; Miss Louise Sherfesse, of Greenville, S. C.; Miss Margaret Wade, of Richmond, Va.; Chick Theiler, Joe LeConte and Albert Batts, of Atlanta; Joe Crawford, of Abbeville, S. C.; Donald McIver, of Tampa, Fla., and Warren Chestham, of Macon.

Miss LeConte is attending a series of house parties this week given by the young ladies who were her guests in Clayton. She will return home about September 7.

Mrs. Coley To Give Bridge-Tea.

A lovely event of this afternoon will be the bridge-tee at which Mrs. L. B. Coley will entertain at her home on Ponce de Leon place, in honor of Mrs. Charles DeLoach.

BOYS' CLUBS TO HOLD MEET AT WAYCROSS

Waycross, Ga., September 1.—(Special).—County agents from eight counties comprising the Waycross district will assemble in Waycross Friday and Saturday, bringing with them teams of club boys for the third annual stock judging contest to be held in this city. The contest will be held under the supervision of Agricultural Agent W. S. Brown, of Savannah.

The winner of the contest here will enter the stock judging contest at the Southeastern fair in Atlanta this fall. Judges for the contest will be Jules Liddell, swine specialist of the State College of Agriculture, Athens; Frank Fitch, cattle specialist from the state college, and Professor Mitchell, poultry specialist.

One of the entertainment features of the meet will be a trip into the Okefenokee swamp. Officials and club members also will be guests of the Waycross and Ware county Chamber of Commerce during their stay here.

MANY LAND TRANSFERS RECORDED IN THOMAS

Thomasville, Ga., September 1.—(Special).—The chamber of commerce reports that many inquiries are being received in regard to Thomas county farm lands, and real estate firms report many sales and transfers of property with indications that more of the farming lands of Thomas county will change hands this season than ever before.

The failure of the crops in other states and the wonderfully fine ones of south Georgia have attracted the attention of the country to this section. Land where there is a very large acreage will be cut up into small farms, as there is much demand for them and also for truck farms, that class of farming having been especially successful in this county of late years.

Fischer-Brisbane Rehearsal Party Lovely Event

Mrs. Johanna Fischer was hostess at a buffet supper at her home on Myrtle street on Tuesday evening following the rehearsal for the wedding of Miss Emma Eleanor Fischer and Austin Francis Brisbane, which will be an event of this evening.

Lovely decorations were used throughout the house, a color scheme of pink and white being used. The table in the dining room was beautifully appointed and held a basket of pink and white asters. Favors, suggestive of weddings, were attractively used placed on the table.

Assisting Mrs. Fischer in entertaining were her daughters, Mrs. Poyntz M. Murray, of Chicago, Ill., and Mrs. Cecil E. Wolfe, of Sarasota, Fla.

The guests included the members of the wedding party, who are Miss Margaret Dove, Miss Dorothy Fischer, of Texas; Master Kenneth Murray, of Chicago; Robert M. Cobb, Charles Eugene Brisbane, Dr. L. C. Fischer, and Dr. W. W. Messinger.

Gate City O. E. S. To Meet Friday.

The regular meeting of Gate City chapter, order of the Eastern Star, will be held on Friday evening, September 4, on the top floor of the Forsyth building. As this is the first meeting of the fall a special program has been arranged and the members of all Atlanta chapters and other jurisdictions are invited. Mrs. Henry A. Owens, who holds the station of Martha, is hostess for the evening.

Agnes Scott College Opening

Agnes Scott will open its 37th session Wednesday, September 9th, at 10 o'clock. Day students should meet the Admission Committee on Monday, September 7th, for classification, from 9 to 12 o'clock or from 2 to 4 o'clock. Boarders should report on Tuesday, September 8th, at the same hours. New students who have not taken intelligence tests must report for these Monday, September 7th, at 10 o'clock. This is required before registration. For further details, address Registrar S. G. Stiles, Telephone DEarborn 0076.—(adv.)

College Days Ahead!

You have planned for weeks—and so have we—to meet your every college wardrobe need.

DAYTIME FROCKS ~ NOVELTY COATS
CHIC MILLINERY ~ PARTY DRESSES
SPORTS APPAREL ~ CAMPUS TOGGERY

All in readiness now!

Soon you will be in line at the registrar's office, entering into another eventful year in school... greeting chums you have missed for months... forming new friendships never to be forgotten... you will be overflowing with enthusiasm... your heart will be leaping from joy... you are on the threshold of a new year.

When you have registered and have been assigned your "hours", you go skipping to the house to compare your course with that of the other girls... you dance with glee when you find you are one of the few that has a first "hour" vacant... now you can sleep longer in the morning than the others... after proclaiming this victory to the world, you prepare for the morrow.

A new season is beginning... you are now preparing to meet its multitude of requirements for a complete wardrobe... a wardrobe that you may be proud of... a wardrobe indicative of individual selection to fulfill every need of school life... for the campus, for the class room, for the street, for the athletic field, for the sorority parties and for the "formals" and "proms"

When you step off your train at your destination, you will want to look smart... your many friends and chums will greet you there... you will want to be stunning to the nth degree.

From the station you will go rushing to your sorority house... here you will be literally swept off your feet with the open hearted reception from the other girls... you will hurriedly change from your traveling costume into something light and airy to wear for dinner... a frock of silken crepe from our dress salon.

You will chatter back and forth with the girls until the wee, small hours before closing your eyelids to welcome slumber... morning will find you refreshed and in a hurry to see the registrar... you slip into that smart daytime frock you purchased here and hop off to see the registrar and then your faculty advisor... when the day is over you are still bubbling over with "pep" and you begin "dolling up" in your new dance frock for the first "hop" of the year... again acquaintances will be made and renewed.

Instructors and professors, new to you, are discussed pro and con by those who have had them... their eccentricities and idiosyncrasies are laid bare before you... you are prepared for better or worse... you are assured that the great armload of books purchased at the book store will tax your mentality to its limit... college days are now beginning.

Thus you settle down to the routine of your curriculum... you take care of your academic work... you enter student activities... you cluster in cliques... you begin "making" parties... a continual round of pleasure is on its way.

New thrills come daily... but the greatest thrill of all is in the offing... the first gridiron battle is soon to be fought... you eagerly participate in all rallies and "pep" meetings... the teams run onto the field of glory... attired in your smartest sports costume, you lend all your vocal and moral support to the team... the surging blood of battle goes bubbling thru your veins... you win... what a joy.

College days pass swiftly on... each week brings new events calling upon you for a most complete wardrobe to successfully meet every occasion... then you rejoice in the fact you had foresight to come to this store to select your garments from our comprehensive stock... and you were most pleasantly surprised to remember how small an expenditure was required to equip yourself for college... you can now greet every occasion with confidence!

FINAL RITES TODAY FOR PLENNIE MINER

Funeral services for Plennie Miner, 52, special investigator in the office of the solicitor general and one of the most widely known court house officials in Georgia, who died Monday afternoon at the residence, 656 South Boulevard, following a brief illness, will be held at 3 o'clock today from the chapel of H. M. Patterson, the Rev. Clifford Liddell, officiating. Interment will be in West View cemetery with the Atlanta lodge, No. 20, F. & A. M., in charge of services at the grave.

The following will act as pallbearers: Solicitor General John A. Boykin, Assistant Solicitor Ed. A. Stephens, Dan M. Goodlin, Chief George Mathieson of the county police, Dr. W. E. Carnes and George W. Pounds.

Special orders were issued by Acting Chief of Police Jett to allow the funeral procession to cross downtown streets against red signals. No funeral is to be delayed by traffic signals hereafter, according to Chief Jett.

On Tuesday the regular session of Fulton county grand jury, before which body he appeared countless times in prosecution of criminals, was cancelled out of respect to his memory as were the offices of the solicitor general.

Mr. Miner was born in Gwinnett county, moved to Oklahoma when a youth and then returned to Georgia at the age of 15 years. He came to Atlanta when 21 years of age and was appointed deputy sheriff during the term of Sheriff C. W. Mangum, where he served for eight years.

He was transferred to the office of solicitor general where he served until his death, being employed for eight years and eight months in these offices.

He was an active member of the Baptist church and was well known in fraternal circles, being a member of the Elks, Scottish Rite Mason and a Shriner.

In addition to his widow he is survived by three sons, Wilson, Clarence and Harold Miner; a sister, Mrs. J. H. Cruse, of Lawrenceville, Ga., and a brother, Roscoe Miner.

CITY POPULATION FIGURES INCREASE

Addition of 500 new names to the city telephone directory in the last eight days; big increases in the crowds of new Atlanta citizens thronging the city hall seeking to enter children in school this fall, and the August report of the city building inspector showing a 20 per cent increase in building permits for August over July, were three tangible developments of Atlanta's growth made known Tuesday.

The increases in the new telephone were reported by the Southern Bell Telephone and Telegraph company. All of the additions were absolutely new people and were not transfers as the company usually has a large number of transfers during the morning season which begins September 1.

All day Tuesday big crowds of people crowded the office of the city attendance and census director to make applications for places in city schools for children who have not yet attended any school in Atlanta. Virtually all of the people visiting the school offices were newcomers.

The city building inspector reported permits for August amounting to $780,000 as compared to $617,692 for July.

The Georgia Railway and Power company reported several hundred new connections while the city waterworks reported nearly 300 new "taps" for August.

Moving day, which began Tuesday, kept all transfer companies in Atlanta busy day and night.

Polls Close Saturday In Trustee Election At Georgia University

Athens, Ga., September 1.—(Special.)—Saturday is the final date ballots will be received in the election for four trustees on the board of the University of Georgia. It was announced today. The voting so far has been brisk, according to Alumni Secretary, E. A. Lowe, and several hundred additional ballots are expected in before the polls close.

The Alumni are casting votes for four alumni nominated by the board of managers from eight proposed by that board and for Harold Hirsch, outstanding Atlanta alumnus, put in nomination by the Athens Alumni society. It is planned to have the newly elected trustees qualify before September 11, the date set for the election of a chancellor to succeed Chancellor David C. Barrow, resigned.

RELATIVES OF DEAD WOMAN ARE SOUGHT

Efforts were being made Tuesday to locate relatives of Mrs. M. K. Ward, 53, who was found dead in her room at 371 South Pryor street Monday morning. A coroner's verdict of suicide was returned. At the coroner's inquest it was testified that Mrs. Ward had not been seen since Friday. The body was discovered by E. E. French, lying on her bed with an empty bottle of poison near her body. She is believed to have been dead 48 hours before being found.

Coolidge Gives Stand On Public Problems of Day

Swampscott, Mass., September 1.—(AP)—President Coolidge brought the tenth week of his vacation to a close today by greeting at White Court the American delegates to the Pan-American Congress of Highways, holding one of his semi-weekly conferences with newspapermen, and arranging to discuss the transportation situation here tomorrow with Senator Watson, of Indiana, ranking Republican of the senate interstate commerce commission.

The position of the president on various public questions as outlined showed that he favors repeal of the publicity provisions of the tax law, believes the shipping board must put an end to internal friction and is still determined to take no hand in the anthracite shut down.

It was also disclosed that Mr. Coolidge will hold himself in readiness to return to Washington any time after Labor day; has no speeches in contemplation aside from one he will deliver probably October 6 at the American Legion convention in Omaha.

Discussion in the shipping board and between some of its members and President Palmer, of the emergency fleet corporation, is, in the president's opinion, due to the failure of some commissioner to follow the spirit of the merchant marine act.

Indications were given that he will make a determined effort to restore harmony, but no inkling was given as to what action he may take.

With reference to the anthracite situation, it was reiterated that the administration intends to actively enter into providing the public with an adequate fuel supply, and believes that this can be done at fair prices, unless an unwarranted panic results in abnormal buying.

CO-OP CLUB PAPER JUST FROM PRESS

The latest issue of the Atlanta Co-operative, newly club publication of the local club of Co-operative International, is off the press and is a four-page affair containing much news of club activities.

Frank Maloney, Atlanta lawyer and adjunct of Atlanta's Own 122nd infantry, is editor. Associate editors are Chester M. Gooden and Oscar J. Cox, with George C. Speir as business manager.

Dr. Arch Elkin is president of the Co-operative club, and weekly meetings are held at the Ansley hotel.

2 DEAD, 1 INJURED IN MINE EXPLOSION

Owensboro, Ky., September 1.—(AP)—Two miners were killed and one seriously burned today at mine Number 3 of the Black Diamond Coal Mining company in Drakesboro, when a gas explosion occurred following a slate fall in a tunnel in which seven men were working. Four escaped uninjured.

ARKANSAS SOLON HELD AS FORGER

Little Rock, Ark., September 1.—(AP)—Thomas A. Hill, speaker of the Arkansas house of representatives, at the 1925 session, was indicted late today by the Polaski county grand jury on a charge of forgery of public records. This is the fifth indictment against Speaker Hill in connection with the 1925 session.

The indictment charges that senate bill No. 519, which provided for holdover committees to complete the work of the legislature, was never read the third time or voted upon in the house, and that the speaker forged an entry in the house record showing that bill was read and passed.

The grand jury, after voting the indictment, adjourned until September 15.

ALEXANDER EXPLAINS FOOTBALL RECEIPTS

William A. Alexander, head football coach of the Georgia School of Technology, was the principal speaker Tuesday at the regular weekly meeting of the Rotary club at the Capital City club.

Coch "Alex" gave a brief estimate of gross annual receipts from the sale of football tickets, stating that approximately $250,000 would be realized during the coming season at Grant field. He enumerated the channels of expense through which the money would be spent and gave an outline of the plan of the organized athletic association at Tech, which, he said, was similar to other colleges of the southeast.

Coch Alexander stated that season tickets may still be procured for the season.

Milton W. Bell, of the Atlanta Federal Reserve bank, opened the meeting with the regular weekly "sunshine reports" from absent members and members of the families of Rotarians who were sick.

Announcement was made of the annual picnic to be held Thursday, beginning at 1 o'clock at the Druid Hills Golf club. A golf tournament will get under way promptly at 1 o'clock. Those who do not desire to play golf can participate in a horse-shoe-pitching contest, swimming and other feature entertainments. The feast will start at 5 o'clock, immediately following entertainment features. Prizes are to be awarded the winners of the golf and horseshoe-pitching tournaments.

Jekyll and Hyde Complex Is Seen In Tampa Killing

Tampa, Fla., September 1.—(AP)—Charles Tillman, "murdered" man and Lewis Westover, his alleged "slayer" are one and the same man, according to a theory advanced by Sheriff Hiers, whose deputies have been working toward a solution of the mysterious disappearance of the former on July 10. The disappearance of Tillman and his connection with the alleged killing were linked together when Westover was arrested in Turner county (Ga.) several days ago in Tillman's automobile. Westover, then told Georgia officials of Tillman's death, claiming he committed suicide on the night of July 10, near Harney, about five miles north of Tampa. Westover escaped from the Turner county jail.

O. B. Jarman, deputy sheriff, first advanced the theory of a hoax. He alleged that Tillman was in financial difficulties here and said that he had given checks for funds he did not have in the bank, a few days before he dropped out of sight.

ENGLISH LASSIE ADDED TO GALAXY OF FLO ZIEGFELD

New York, September 1.—(AP)—Selected by Florenz Ziegfeld as the beautiful English girl fitted to join his glorification of the American girl, a simple Birmingham country miss, who uses no cosmetics, has arrived on the Levathan.

As to the appearance of Enid Lilian Parsons on the stage, Chicagoans will have the first say. She is going there to join the chorus of Kid Boots.

Mr. Ziegfeld said that of 500 or more girls he looked at in England, Miss Parsons was the only one who appealed to him as a "Polish" girl. He sought six other English girls.

GRAND TITAN OF KLAN ACCUSED OF PERJURY

Chattanooga, September 1.—(AP)—George Dover, grand titan of the Ku Klux Klan in Tennessee, was arrested on his arrival here today from east Tennessee, on the charge of perjury, the warrant having been sworn out some time ago by the Rev. J. L. Smith, a member of the order. The case grows out of an affidavit signed by Dover and other members of a faction of the Klan and filed as answer to charges in chancery court that members of an opposing faction had been banished without trial. Several other members of the Klan have been bound over to the grand jury on charges of perjury growing out of the same case. Dover deposited a diamond ring as security and was released from custody.

Washington Seminary Domestic Science and Art

Modern education must be not only cultural, but practical. The girls of today will be the home-makers of tomorrow.

To meet this practical side in the education of girls, Washington Seminary, Atlanta, has instituted a thorough course of Domestic Science and Domestic Art. The department is in charge of trained and successful domestic science teachers, and on its completion the student is prepared properly to conduct the domestic side of any home.

For illustrated catalogue, address L. D. and E. B. Scott, Principals, 1274 Peachtree road, or phone 45-1000 (2207) (adv.).

SLAYER OF GIRL TO PLEAD GUILTY TO MANSLAUGHTER

Manila, September 1.—(AP)—Lieutenant J. S. Thompson, who is on trial here for the killing of Miss Audrey Burleigh, formerly of Memphis, Tenn., whom he shot to death in his automobile after she had participated in an amateur theatrical against his wishes, today withdrew his plea of insanity and entered a plea of "guilty of voluntary manslaughter, but not guilty of murder." He is charged before a court-martial with first degree murder.

In entering his plea, Thompson's counsel said the lieutenant had recently told him that "I am not insane nor am I guilty of murder. To hide behind a plea of insanity is false."

NEGRO SUFFOCATED BY DITCH CAVE-IN

The body of an unidentified negro was found buried in a ditch Tuesday afternoon in the rear of 434 W. North street.

It is believed that he was suffocated as the falling dirt did not cause any violent injuries. He was in the employ of Sam Venable, plumber, of 363 Glenwood avenue.

The body was found about 11 o'clock Tuesday morning and is said to have been buried by the cave-in sometime earlier in the morning.

BUMPER CROPS SEEN IN THOMAS COUNTY

Thomasville, Ga., September 1.—(Special.)—Rains which have fallen

here from time to time during the summer have kept vegetation fresh and green and made large crops for Thomas county and it is hard to realize that drought conditions prevail in north Georgia and in the Carolinas.

A Thomasville man motoring home from the east, states that in Asheville, N. C. he was not allowed water enough to use in his car. He was allowed to have a cup of water at the hotels when ordering a glass of water only half a glass was given. Trees are dying and the look of winter and the lack of winter crops this year.

"Ready in a jiffy!"

SHE had just finished a vigorous round at tennis when some friends drove by and invited her:

"Peggy, can you join us right away—big party out at Dorothy's in the country."

Most girls would have demurred; but she had learned the secret of freshening up quickly with Listerine, the safe antiseptic. She was ready to go with them in just a few moments.

*****

Listerine really is delightfully refreshing and effective as a perspiration deodorant.

And there are many occasions for using it this way, particularly in summer: when you feel hot and uncomfortable—maybe after shopping; when you want to freshen up quickly after exercising; when traveling on trains makes you wish for the old tub back home.

It does the trick—and it's safe. Listerine won't irritate the skin or stain garments. You'll be delighted with it.

To test the deodorizing properties of Listerine, simply try this some day: Rub a little fresh onion on your hand. Then douse on Listerine. The onion odor immediately disappears.

You'll say it's remarkable—and it is.—Lambert Pharmaceutical Company, St. Louis, U. S. A.

Listerine Throat Tablets are now available. Please do not make the mistake of expecting them to correct bad breath. Rely on the Listerine. Containing all of the antiseptic essential oils of Listerine, however, they are very valuable as a relief for throat irritations—25 cents.

Anthracite Strike Is Seen As Beneficial To Consumer If Both Sides Remain Firm

valuation of Lands downward, With Ultimate Price Reduction, As Likely Outcome.

BY MARK SULLIVAN.

Washington, September 1.—The anthracite coal strike has one practical aspect. If it is kept up inclusion will be important and a daily war to avoid that would be the two parties to the controversy to come together, back down before the public, and rather than to resume fairly early operations. That outcome seems probable, because one of the persons deeply involved, Lewis, is not kind of man to back down from a position, however perilous. But that any one of all the other outcomes is certain to be some revolutionary in strikes and

Public to Stand Fast.

His prediction assumes that the public will stand fast and that the agencies of the federal and local government will prevent profiteering. The attitude of the public will be the key. If it does not fall into a panic the result just outlined is dictated with confidence by some equipped to know the conditions. Supplies both of anthracite itself, of substitutes are ample, the rails and other channels of distribution were never working better. The federal government and local governments can help to prevent price paucity, prevent isolated cases of profiteering by adopting a price form the supervision of coal distribution was practiced during the war. No declaration or even hint has yet come from the federal government to supervise coal distribution.

That may not be necessary even to add degrees. It is clear from evidence that Coolidge and the administration will look on the public the sole object of its duty. The ant action of the Interstate Commerce commission in reducing freight on soft coal cannot be intended as other than an intention to dilute the access of the public to anthracite. The rails are concerned have been asking in for that reduction for several Coolidge Big Factor.

That is but one of the many ways which the government can co-operate to supply fuel and keep prices low. As regards Coolidge, he is practical certain to break new ground one or another. If the strike is fought to an end without presidential intervention, that in itself will be a precedent, or at least a breaking of precedent. The strike has endured for 25 years and has never brought permanent relief or any other kind of advantage.

If, on the other hand, Coolidge intervenes it undoubtedly will call on congress for power and that permanent government control over the coal industry toward which public opinion has been groping for 25 years, and which was recommended by the last coal commission. Even as things stand today, Coolidge has already created a precedent, done the unexpected thing to the dismay of both parties to the coal industry, who counted on his coming to the situation and being used as a pre-emptive device. Coolidge's pre-emptive device have been used. Coolidge's restraint ought not to have been a surprise. It is consistent with the way he acted in the Boston police strike, and it is his temperament not to reach out for a situation, but to wait until it is clearly on his doorstep and then act forcibly and in a way to bring permanent results. The largest personality in the controversy is Lewis, the miners' leader. He is able, extremely forceful, also resourceful and ambitious. President Harding, at the time of the coal strike he had on his hands, in a conversation with a friend, said of Lewis, "He is as much a candidate for president of the United States some day as I am for re-election next time." Clinton Gilbert the other day, in a sketch not unfriendly, said of Lewis: "He has confidence—not merely acted confidence—for he has as much as any man the egotism of leadership inside him."

Master of Bluff.

This sketch spoke of Lewis' opposition to radicalism. "Sure, aggressive manner, his shrewdness," he says, "he is a good politician and a master of bluff." That last phrase might mislead. Lewis is the sort of man to make daring threats but also he is resolute enough to take the gamble of trying to make a threat good. He would sooner run the risk of colossal disaster than be content with a drawn battle or a small gain. His own men are not well pleased. It is spoken of as a "leader's strike." Lewis might go through the threat to call a simultaneous strike in the soft coal fields but men whose information and judgment are the very best say that only a negligible fraction of the soft coal miners would obey a strike call. In the past the strategy has been to call soft and hard coal strikes alternately so that the group at work could provide strike funds for the striking group. If things become bad enough Lewis might recall how he helped the last time by having a railroad strike synchronous with the coal strike. But while the railroad workers may try for a raise in wages this fall they are not at all fond of the coal miners and would not strike merely to help them. Lewis' prestige is injured by the very serious disaster brought to hundreds of thousands of union miners in the soft coal fields by forcing an agreement in March, 1924, at so high a wage that it proved impractical and diverted the business to non-union miners.

One can count off every condition and find each of them adverse to Lewis this time. Washington has no feeling against Lewis, but rather admires him. Decidedly there is no feeling about miners' wages compared to the feeling about constantly increasing valuation of the anthracite coal fields—a process which the coal commission describes as a "two hundred year speculation in real estate financed by the public." The governing opinion in Washington is that there is a condition in the coal industry intolerable to the public and vicious to miners and operators alike. It is a condition that can only be cured by coming to a head in one way or another and Washington will welcome that kind of outcome.

GIRL SCOUT COUNCIL FORMED AT GRIFFIN

Griffin, Ga., September 1.—(Special.)—A girl scout council was formed in Griffin Monday and plans were made for increased activities by the Mocking Bird troop here. The Rev. George E. Zachary was elected president of the council with B. B. Blakeby as vice president. Mrs. Ober Tyus was chosen secretary and treasurer and Mrs. W. E. H. Seary, Jr., chairman of the scout commission. N. J. Baxter was elected chairman of the court of honor with Miss Mary Martin Mills as captain and Mrs. Gordon Wilson as lieutenant. The troop numbers 25 girls from the most representative families in Griffin. They recently have returned from a week's camp at Indian Springs.

SOUTH GEORGIA COWS DYING FROM FEVER

Dr. Peter F. Bahnsen, state veterinarian, is in Bryan county to conduct an investigation of the recent deaths of cattle from fever said to have been caused by fever ticks. Dr. Bahnsen spent Monday in Savannah and was joined there by Dr. T. H. Applewhite, acting inspector in charge of that territory, and Dr. W. D. Martin, who will assist in the investigation. According to word from Savannah, Dr. Bahnsen is inclined to believe that re-infestation in Bryan county was caused by the possible movement of stock from St. Catherine's island to the mainland, and he is working on that theory.

TAX VALUATIONS IN SPALDING TAKE HIKE OF $87,905

Griffin, Ga., September 1.—(Special.)—Spalding county's tax valuations for 1925 show an increase of $87,905 over the year 1924, according to the county digest, which has just been completed by Tax Receiver Harry Johnson and which has been approved by H. G. Fullerton, state tax commissioner. Consolidation of the tax returns shows valuations for the year of $7,745,215, with a valuation last year of $7,657,310. The report shows also that there are 19 lawyers in the county, 25 doctors, seven dentists, one veterinarian, one optician and six embalmers. The mills and city property prove to be the biggest single items, the former being valued at $2,064,595 and the latter at $2,000,135. Automobiles in the county are valued at $217,680.

Florida Motor Club Head Is Spending Short Visit in Atlanta

Roland C. Caley, manager of the Jacksonville Motor Club of Jacksonville, Fla., is in Atlanta, conferring with A. P. Phillips, Jr., general manager of the Motor club here. Mr. Caley's visit was necessitated by the volume of tourists that the two clubs have to take care of, due to the unprecedented tourist traffic in the southeast, he said.

Mr. Caley commended the city on the electric traffic control and Boulevard system and is endeavoring to have the same system installed in Jacksonville.

PAGE IZAAK WALTON!

Fishers Lose Cars and Money in Mystery Fire.

Griffin, Ga., September 1.—(Special.)—Three automobiles, that carried a party of 14 mill operatives on a fishing expedition near Sullivan's mill, were destroyed by fire of an undetermined origin yesterday. According to stories of the fishers they put their clothing, shoes, hats and other belongings in one of the cars, and while they were gone they heard an explosion. In a few seconds there were two more explosions. Members of the party rushed back to find their automobiles in a blaze. The cars, together with their contents, were destroyed totally. The loss is estimated at $2,200. One man had $100 in pockets of clothes in one of the cars. This also was lost.

Assistant administrator in charge of pernicious work, W. H. Hobson. Deputy administrator in charge of the Georgia, W. T. Day and Frederick D. Dismuke. For the state of North Carolina, Arthur G. McDuffie and John L. Osteen. For the state of South Carolina, J. Hal Schaffer and Percy M. Caudle.

Shenandoah Begins Five-Day Journey Over West Today

Naval Air Station, Lakehurst, N. J., September 1.—The middle west is going to get a good close-up view of the dirigible Shenandoah. The huge airship has been taken from its hangar to be made ready for a flight of five or more days, to begin Wednesday covering the route which from St. Louis the airship will fly to Detroit, passing over Kansas City, St. Joseph, Des Moines, Eau Claire, Fond Du Lac, Milwaukee and Minneapolis in a condensed swing.

The Shenandoah will fly to Scott Field, St. Louis, for a short stay. En route it will pass over Philadelphia, Wheeling, Columbus and Indianapolis, then on to Detroit. The airship will fly to Detroit, passing over Kansas City, St. Joseph, Des Moines, Eau Claire, Fond Du Lac, Milwaukee and Minneapolis in a condensed swing. At Detroit the Shenandoah will try out a new mooring mast erected by Henry Ford and then fly home by way of Toledo, Sandusky and Cleveland. Commander Zachary Landowne will have charge of the ship and the 38 men aboard.

DROUTH TO CONTINUE

Fair and Warm Weather Von Hermann's Forecast.

Continued warm weather, with no immediate relief from drouth conditions, is seen for Georgia in the weather forecast of C. F. von Hermann, local meteorologist. There has been some relief from the heat in south Georgia through thunder showers, Mr. von Hermann said. The temperature Tuesday ranged from a low of 70 to 91 degrees, approximating that of the last few days. Today is expected to be about the same.

BURGLARS ACTIVE DURING TUESDAY

A series of robberies were reported to police Tuesday night. Theft of clothes and shoes from the apartment of C. L. Holcomb, 403 North Jackson, was included in hauls made by burglars, according to police.

W. L. Hammock, of 106 Belmont avenue, reported the theft of a diamond ring. A gold watch was reported stolen from the office of E. W. Thompson, of 417 Healey building. Mrs. J. T. Glover, of a downtown hotel, reported the theft of clothes. Mrs. W. S. Gattis, of 45 Pulliam street, had a purse with $6 stolen from her home, she said.

Land Is Taking Rest.

Fort E. Land, state school superintendent, is on a short vacation and will return to his office in the capital within the next ten days.

DROUTH IS BROKEN IN NORTH GEORGIA

Cornelia, Ga., September 1.—(Special.)—The long drouth was broken today when a hard rain swept through the northwest section of the state. Reports are to the effect that the rain was general and was sufficient to help farmers stage an eleventh-hour comeback after weeks when there was scarcely any moisture to aid crops. Georgia Railway and Power company reservoirs in this section were almost depleted and power has been curtailed for several weeks, but a few more rains like the one today will again swell them to normalcy. Citizens welcomed the refreshing rains and hope that the drouth has been broken permanently is freely expressed.

ATHENS SUPPLY NOT YET AFFECTED

Athens, Ga., September 1.—(Special.)—Athens has not suffered any shortage of water on account of the drouth and city officials announce that should the present unprecedented dry spell continue for several months yet the city's water supply would not be affected. A supply of filtered water sufficient to last the city for 40 days is now in the reservoirs while the source of supply is still affording daily pumping, it is stated.

CROPS ARE PARCHED NEAR SUMMERVILLE

Summerville, Ga., September 1.—(Special.)—The drouth which has prevailed throughout this section during the entire summer is rapidly assuming serious proportions. Practically all vegetable crops have already burned up, and corn and cotton crops have been very badly damaged. The latter crop suffering its greatest damage during the past two weeks, it is said. Farmers state that almost grown bolts have dried up on the stalks and if piled up would burn almost like powder. Late gardens are a complete failure, and as a result all kinds of vegetables are scarce. The water shortage also is becoming alarming. Wells, springs and creeks, which heretofore have furnished water in abundance have dried up and many people in rural sections are compelled to haul water a considerable distance for both home use and for stock. Summerville's city water supply has held up remarkably well and no restrictions have been placed on its use up to this time.

The local cotton mill, which is now operated by electric power furnished by the Georgia Railway and Power company, is complying with the power company's request to conserve power by running the mill at night and closing during the day. Gins are operated by electricity during the day. Many old citizens say that they cannot recall a drouth extending over a period as long as the present one, and those who heretofore have had reputations as weather prophets say that all the old signs for rain have failed this time.

FORD NOW GIVING ALL OF HIS TIME TO AIR MAIL LINE

San Antonio, Texas, September 1.—(AP) Attired in overalls, Henry Ford, automotive genius, is devoting all of his time on his new $10,000,000 air mail line which will radiate from San Antonio, Colonel W. F. Mitchell, chief air officer of the eighth corps area, stated today. He has just returned from Detroit.

Experimenting with new aviation devices, Mr. Ford has abandoned his automobile plans, temporarily, placing their control in the hands of others while he studies aviation, Colonel Mitchell said.

Colonel Mitchell, who spent considerable time with Mr. Ford, said that the three-motored plane Mr. Ford is planning will be brought here on its trial flight. It is this machine Mr. Ford plans to use in his air line. Mr. Ford is making his experiments in the Stout Airplane company section of his plant.

"PARKED AUTO LOOTED"

Miss E. M. reported to police Thursday that her auto had been looted of a suit case, hat boxes, all of her wearing apparel, and two strings of pearls, while she was eating breakfast in a downtown cafe. She had just arrived in Atlanta, and parked her car on Carnegie Way.—Recent news story.

WOMAN NEAR DEATH WHEN HIT BY AUTO

Mrs. T. Z. Stallings, of 231 Courtland street, is near death in Grady hospital as the result of injuries received when struck down late Tuesday night by an automobile at the corner of Cain and Courtland streets. The machine which hit Mrs. Stallings is said to have been driven by a woman who drove away after the accident before Policemen B. J. Covington and Charles Faulkner arrived.

Mrs. Stallings was rushed to the hospital and following treatment was permitted to go to her home. A short time later, however, she lapsed into unconsciousness and was returned to the hospital where her condition is reported serious. She suffered from concussion of the brain and internal injuries. The name of the woman driver is said to be known to police, also her address on East Harris street. Police who were searching for her late Tuesday night reported, however, that she had not returned to her home after the crash.

THE PEARL HEADED PIN

BY ROY VICKERS

SYNOPSIS. Colonel Hallett and his wife, Margaret, are discussing plans for remodeling their London home, which is being remodeled. The conversation changes, and Mrs. Hallett is reminded of the past. Twenty years before she had been married to Henry Ledway, who died in a railroad wreck after being accused, along with his partner, John Selkirk, of murdering a business rival. Selkirk had been tried and sentenced to twenty years. Mrs. Hallett tells her husband the morning paper announces Selkirk's release from prison.

"I'll fetch them while you are explaining the business details," interrupted John. "O, yes, I will, if you'll tell me exactly where to find them. I want my family to be convinced I'm not going to let it down. . . . You'll be able to discuss things after lunch, mumie?"

There was a touch of impatience in the question. Mrs. Hallett knew that, in her daughter's eyes, she was showing a preoccupation that was inadvisable, even in view of Selkirk's waiting in the next room and all the complications that March's will had brought about.

She tried to put some enthusiasm into her assurance that she would be sufficiently rested after lunch. But there had welled up in her mind the realization that this man of whom for some time now John had been seeing so much was a man with whom March had conspired. A man who knew, doubtless, how the trap had been baited for Selkirk; knew, too, what she herself did not—why the diabolical web had been woven around herself. She shivered and a mist came before her eyes.

"Steady, mumie!" John's arm was round her shoulders and Cornboise was flinging open a window. "Don't faint, there's a pet. Come to your room, won't you? I'll deal with the florist."

"No, dear, thank you," Mrs. Hallett gathered her strength with an effort. "It was just a passing faintness. . . . There's the gong. You run along."

She looked entrancedly into the girl's eyes and Joan answered with an imperceptible nod.

"Right! Come along, Mr. Cornboise, she always was a stubborn patient. The trouble I've had."

They passed out. Almost immediately Harcourt entered with a tray. "In here, madam? Miss Hallett's room, if I might suggest it, it would be more secluded."

"In here, I think, Harcourt. Miss Hallett has got a 'muddle' in there and has locked the doors."

Harcourt smiled discreetly. He had been with the Halletts since their marriage and knew well that Joan's "muddles" could necessitate a temporary barricade.

"That is all I want," continued Mrs. Hallett, "and when I've finished I'll ring and go and rest for a few minutes. There's nothing wrong with me except fatigue."

"Very natural, madam, after such an ordeal as this morning. Most regrettable. A little wine, madam?"

"Nothing else, Harcourt. But shut the window."

As the butler left the room, Mrs. Hallett's energy returned to her. She rose from the little table at which she had installed her, picked up the tray and went quickly across to the folding doors.

As she threw them open, the man sitting huddled in a big chair near the window leaped to his feet.

"Sit down again, Mr. Selkirk. I'm afraid you've been waiting some time, but I wasn't free to come before. I've brought you some lunch; don't let's talk till you've eaten it."

With a short laugh, Selkirk sat down again. Mrs. Hallett placed the tray before him and then went back to the folding doors and locked them.

"We are quite safe from interruption here," she said as she turned toward him. "I am glad you are here, walking into a trap; I am very glad you consented to come."

A grin flitted across Selkirk's face. "Watching him, Mrs. Hallett received again the impression of a slumbering mind faintly struggling to wakefulness. One would never have guessed that he had been in prison."

"Miss Hallett gave me no opportunity to refuse," he remarked. "She said, 'Please come with me—I'm Joan Hallett—my mother wants to speak to you,' and when I hesitated she added: 'Don't be a gink! She's just as much in the soup as you are.'"

Mrs. Hallett smiled also. The echo of Joan's persuasions brought a breath of air into the room. She noticed that as he spoke of her daughter Selkirk looked wistfully around, his gaze roving from the poster-covered walls to the colorful litter on the table and the orange trees growing in their pots by the long window.

"My daughter expresses herself rather forcibly," she said, "but she has really summarized the situation excellently. We are both in a danger. Mr. Selkirk, because we are both innocent of murder and yet either of us may be charged with it. At the moment your danger is much more immediate than mine."

"Ah! That means that they brought in 'willful murderer' against me at the inquest."

"Yes, they did."

"They must be after me already, then. Well, I expected that. That's what made me decide to try to see you while I could, Mrs. Hallett. Yes, I was on my way here when you sent your daughter for me."

"Please eat something," Mrs. Hallett urged him. "We have not so much time. No, I don't want anything myself. I never can eat in a crisis, but you will need all your strength."

Reluctantly at first, Selkirk began to eat; but gradually, as Mrs. Hallett could see, appetite returned to him. "I did not know I was so hungry," he said. "I had no breakfast. Of course, ever since March's body was discovered I knew that everything would point to me—except for that pin, that pearl-headed pin of yours."

Mrs. Hallett started violently. It had not occurred to her before to wonder what had brought Selkirk to her.

and finally went round to see what had happened to him.

"There was a suitcase half unpacked on the floor of the inner office. He had obviously remembered an appointment with someone else and slipped off it without waiting to see me. The—pin was discovered on his body. Was it or not, I don't know, even if I should want to speak to you, Mr. Hallett?"

"If you had waited to read the reports of the inquest," said Mrs. Hallett, "you would have known that I was in the witness box when I gave that pin to Mr. March, and I said that I had given it one day last week."

"Why had you to lie?" demanded Selkirk gruffly. "If you weren't in love with March, what have you to conceal?"

He had finished his meal, and without answering him Mrs. Hallett took the tray and returned with it to the front drawing room. She put it down and rang the bell, then retreated swiftly to Joan's room and again locked the folding doors. With a gesture she cautioned Selkirk to be silent and they waited until they could hear a servant enter, remove the tray and leave the drawing room.

Mrs. Hallett glanced at the clock. Her servants were quick and competent. She served in the dining room, but even so, Cornboise would be awaiting her within ten minutes or less. She dropped back into her chair and tried to think calmly and clearly.

She dared not tell Selkirk the whole truth. In the full realization of his own danger, could he be expected to protect her and her husband, even if he believed her innocent? He might have sympathy for her, but she could not ask him to keep her secret when to reveal it would insure her own safety. Yet she must inspire him with confidence; she must convince him that she wanted his safety as much as her own.

"I know what you are thinking," he broke in. "You're remembering that I told you and your husband how much I wanted to kill March—that I intended to kill him; and you're wondering why I should have held my own life so lightly then and cling to it now. I can only suppose it's a dislike of not having had my money's worth, coupled with a sense of humor—I did twenty years because another man has killed March. March's murder has been framed up against me just as the other murder was."

He stared a moment with blazing eyes at the golden oranges against the window pane. Then—

"If you were in March's place, why are you lying about that pin?" he demanded for the second time.

"Because if the charge against you falls through, Mr. Selkirk, it automatically becomes another charge against me. The thing is devilishly clever. I can't explain it fully—I can't understand it myself yet. But listen to me."

She leaned toward him, clasping and unclasping her hands in desperate sincerity.

"I know you did not kill Mr. March, because—well, chiefly because of the pearl-headed pin. You cannot know that I had no secret understanding with him; I am not able to prove it to you. But I ask you to take me on trust."

"I am quite willing to do that," said Selkirk. He looked round the room again, sighted and rose. "I must detain you. I'll get out and meet what's coming to me. And—you'll do your best for me, Mrs. Hallett?"

"I'm going to do everything in my power for you," she told him hurriedly. "And the first thing is to keep you hidden until I can see my way more clearly."

Again Selkirk gave his dry laugh. "Quite hopeless!" he jerked out. "If the police want me they'll get me. I know enough of their methods to know that."

"No one who knows you saw you come in here," insisted Mrs. Hallett. "No one but my daughter knows you are here now. We have a good chance. If you will stay here quietly this afternoon, I will think out a plan. Her thoughts fled to the coming interview with Cornboise. "By the end of this afternoon," she repeated, "I may have discovered more. I may be able to tell you more."

Selkirk moved back to his chair. "As you please," he said almost with indifference. "This is a pleasant room to hide in. It will give me something to think about—afterwards. I suppose."

Mrs. Hallett motioned him to silence. In the hall outside she heard Joan's voice and the shutting of the front door. In the drawing room she heard a step that already she recognized.

"I must go," she whispered to Selkirk. "Keep out of sight for a moment."

He obeyed, and she unlocked and opened the folding doors so quietly that Cornboise, staring down into the street below, did not turn from the window of the drawing room. When Mrs. Hallett closed the doors behind her, her eyes were fastened upon him. Was it not Ray who had said that the back view of this man was so extraordinarily familiar?

She gasped and almost fell against the back of a chair, but even as she turned she had recovered herself. She spoke in a low tone, fearful lest Selkirk should hear.

"Well—Mr. March?"

Before he could speak she moved quickly across the room and joined him at the window. A low cushioned seat ran across it and on to this she sank, her limbs trembling, a vein in her throat hammering and throbbing until it seemed certain that Cornboise must see it. But she did not care.

For the moment, all that mattered was that Selkirk should not overhear and interrupt.

"Please do not raise your voice," she said. "There is some one waiting to see my daughter in the next room. And now, please explain—everything."

Cornboise, seating himself in a low chair opposite her, ignored the command.

REMAINS FINISHES PEN TERM TODAY

George Remus, Cincinnati bootlegger, today will be liberated from Atlanta federal penitentiary, when he will complete serving a two-year sentence imposed on him in Cincinnati for violation of the United States anti-run laws. He will be turned over to United States Marshal Stanley Borthwick, who arrived with two deputies Tuesday in Atlanta to take Remus into custody for Dayton, Ohio, officials to serve a year-and-a-day imposed at the same time Remus was sentenced to the Atlanta institution.

The prisoner hall took out habeas corpus proceedings in an effort to escape service of the Dayton sentence and will plead a ruling made in the case of several members of the so-called Remus gang, who won a decision that the two sentences were to run concurrently.

When Remus passes through St. Louis he is expected to be placed under $50,000 bond authorized by the courts, to appear in that city on September 21 to answer to a charge of violating prohibition laws there.

Things probably will happen very fast, for when Remus reaches Cincinnati, his former home, he is expected to be served with papers filed Monday by his wife, Mrs. Imogene Remus, asking a divorce, alimony and a permanent injunction to prevent him from coming into contact with her.

Remus Tuesday intimated that he did not believe the divorce was filed, or if it was, it was not in earnest, according to reports. He still has hopes of affecting a reconciliation, it is rumored.

Mrs. Remus also asked custody of Ruth Remus, 17-year-old daughter, who has been living with her mother since June, 1920. She also requested the court to restore her maiden name, Imogene B. Holmes.

MAY BARE FINANCIAL AFFAIRS OF REMUS.
 Cincinnati, Ohio, September 1.—(AP) U. S. Internal Revenue Collector Charles M. Dean announced today upon learning that suit for divorce and alimony had been filed by Mrs. Imogene Remus against George Remus, Cincinnati bootlegger, that he would notify the judge of the court of domestic relations regarding certain claims and fees held by the government against Remus' property.

It is understood these total more than $500,000, covering alleged delinquent taxes, assessments and penalties.

Dean said he will tell the court that in fixing any alimony sought by Mrs. Remus, cognizance of these claims must be taken.

GORMAN IS INJURED IN AUTO SMASH-UP
 Paul Gorman, of 59 Flora avenue, was injured in a smash-up Tuesday night for bruises and cuts which he said he received in an automobile accident.

Police headquarters had no report of the accident on file and Gorman did not tell the doctors where the accident occurred.

A seventeen-year-old girl recently broke the record for a miss of her years by climbing the Thrift Horn of Switzerland, 12,200 feet high.

BYFIELD-CANDLER SUIT IS SLATED IN DEKALB COURT

Decatur, Ga., September 1.—(Special.)—Suit for $100,000 damages against William T. Candler, brought by Mrs. Clyde Byfield, young Atlanta society matron, is scheduled to be heard in DeKalb superior court a second time, beginning next Monday, it became known here today.

The case was tried several months ago and Mrs. Byfield's claims were denied by a jury. She carried the case to the Georgia court of appeals and that tribunal sustained her citations of error and sent it back to the trial court for a new hearing.

Mrs. Byfield claims Candler attacked her in her stateroom aboard the steamship Berengaria while she and her husband were en route to France as Candler's guests. Her injuries are permanent and the suit is brought to recover damages growing out of the attack she alleges. She is represented by ex-Governor John M. Slaton.

Candler denies the charges.
